DR. NOBLE SPEAKS AT SUNDAY VESPERS

"Nobly Serious Thinking and Christly Practical Doing," His Theme.

SOCIAL SONG SERVICE.

Well Known Schenectady Clergyman Gives Inspiring Talk.

Dr. E. A. Noble of the local First Methodist church addressed a small, but appreciative audience at Sunday vespers service in Silliman Hall. Taking his text from the fourth chapter of the Epistle of Paul to the Phillipians, Dr. Noble developed an address of undoubted interest and intrinsic value to college men. He said in part:

"Let me read to you again this well known passage from this letter written by the Apostle Paul to his friends the Phillipians: 'Brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.'

"Take Paul's other subject, 'Whatsoever things are lovely.' Some day you will go to the great art exhibitions. You will look at the paintings. You will look at the people and hear their comments. What effect has the picture on the mind and thought of the spectator? It is part of the nature on the mind and thought of have an appreciation for liveliness.

"The things we think upon are the things we become. The more one puts his mind on a specific thing, the more the qualities of that thing become incorporated in his life.

"The things that are 'winning'—what are the 'winning' things of life? Answer the question for yourself. What in the people about you are the winning things? Heroism, response to fine ideals, a conscience. These are winning things.

"The winning people of history

COMMITTEE ANNOUNCES COMPLETED PLANS FOR JUNIOR WEEK OF EXCEPTIONAL GAITY

The plans for 1918's Junior Week have now been completed. The schedule of festivities is as follows:

Thursday, 8:00 P. M.—Musical Clubs concert and dance at the Edison Club.

Friday, 4-7 P. M.—Sigma Phi Tea.

Friday, 9:30 P. M.—Junior Promenade.

Saturday, 4-7 P. M.—Chi Psi tea.

Saturday, 8:00 P. M.—Basketball game, Union vs. Williams.

Sunday, 11:00 A. M.—Chapel service.

All the fraternities on the hill are planning to give house parties so that every event of the week promises to be well attended.

The final details for the Prom, which is of course the big affair of the week, have now been completed according to an announcement made by Am Towne and his committee this noon. The gym will be decorated with garnet and white streamers. Eight thousand feet of southern smilax will be used to cover the balcony railings. The walls will be banked with evergreens and the girder work will be screened by a garnet and white canopy. The basketball squad will be driven from the court Friday afternoon and a ball room finish will be applied to the floor.

Eight pieces of Wittstein's dance orchestra will furnish the music. This popular New Haven music maker has been the hit of several proms among Eastern colleges this season. The catering will be done by Nuttall, and man's inner self is sure to be satisfactorily gratified. The favors, which are to be brown leather card cases, will contain unique dance orders of thirty-two pages.

The patronesses of the Prom will be Mrs. Charles Alexander

PRINCETON COMMENTS ON DAWSON'S APPOINTMENT

Undergraduates Will Welcome Return of Former Athletic Star.

The Daily Princetonian makes the following comment upon the appointment of Fred Dawson as permanent head coach of the Freshman football and baseball teams:

"While at Princeton, Dawson played on both his Freshman football and baseball teams. Later, he became quarter-back on the football eleven and catcher on the baseball team. In 1910 he was elected captain of the Varsity baseball nine. Dawson's fighting spirit and his faculties as a leader contributed materially to his success as an athlete when he attended the University.

"Dawson has now been coach at Union College for five or six years in football, baseball and basketball, and he has done remarkably well with the teams under his control there. Not only did he develop formidable football and baseball teams, which have raised Union to a high plane as a small college that consistently turns out good teams, but he has brought out some of the most powerful basketball teams in the country. This year's Union five, under the supervision of Coach Dawson, defeated the Princeton team in one of the early season contests. Dawson is described as 'virile and gingerly, a splendid chap, a favorite with his men and a coach who knows the game and the theory of teaching it.'

DEAN ANGELL TO CONTINUE LECTURE COURSE TONIGHT

Third Lecture Under Ichabod Spencer Foundation on "Makers of Modern Psychology."

Dean James Rowland Angell of Chicago will deliver his third lecture on "The Makers of Modern Psychology" in the College chapel at eight o'clock tonight. The subject of this lecture will be "Weber, Fechner, Helmholtz, and Physiological Psychology."

The opening lectures on the "Associationists" and "Evolutionists," which were given two weeks ago were largely attended by the students. Dean Angell presents his lectures with great simplicity, and his pleasing humor adds greatly to their interest.

The fourth lecture will be given tomorrow night on "Wundt and the Laboratory Movement."

GIRLING & BECKETT WIN ICE TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP

At the mammoth ice carnival held at Central Park Saturday afternoon an ice tennis team composed of Wally Girling and Guv Beckett defeated the fast Boat Club team by the score of 6-4. Because of other numerous events which had to be run off only one set was played but Wally and Guv far outclassed their opponents. They now claim the city championship and stand ready to meet any amateur ice tennis team that cares or dares to oppose them. Over five thousand people attended the carnival.

LORD GEOFFREY TOO MUCH FOR MOHAWKS

Amherst Five Takes Sudden Spurt in Last Five Minutes of Play.

SCORE 27-24.

Widmeyer's Foul Shooting Features Fastest Game Ever Played on Amherst Court.

Coach Dawson's Indians from the Mohawk Vale found Lord Geoffrey Amherst too much for them in a whirlwind game at Amherst Saturday afternoon. The floor work of the Garnet five was superior to that of their opponents, but they failed to find the basket. With the score 21-16 in Union's favor and five minutes to play Amherst took a sudden spurt and piled up the winning score of 27-24.

Jones at forward and Galbraith at center showed up well, the latter scoring two field baskets and three foul shots. Hathaway shot three fouls.

Maynard and Widmeyer were Amherst's chief point getters. The foul shooting of the latter was the feature of the game; he succeeded in ringing eleven out of sixteen free shots.

The Union team could not find the basket at critical times, and they failed to check Amherst's sudden furious attack in the last few moments.

Moynihan was taken out after committing four fouls and Goff went in at forward. Norton took Knauth's place when the latter was removed for personal fouls.

NEXT CONCORDY TO BE JUNIOR WEEK NUMBER

There will be no issue of THE CONCORDIENSIS until February 10, when a special Junior Week number will be issued.

The Board, as well as you, finds itself in the unfortunate position of having to bone for a few exams, and the management respectfully wishes to call your attention to the number of this issue. No. 46, which is to say that you are already a bit ahead of the game for the half year. Lots of "real nice things" in the extra big Junior Week number, February 10th.

SORROW AND JOY.

"Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing; thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness."—Psalm 30:11.

We are now facing seven days of trial and tribulation, of sorrow and mourning, of sackcloth and ashes, of anxiety and regret, of black coffee and headaches, of nocturnal wattage and lost notes,—in short, of exams. But they do say that even the wormwood will turn and with a dash of brandy and plenty of sugar you have the absinthe frappe.

And so exams will turn, amid the gruesome death agonies of lost and ruined souls, and with a dash of delectable femininity and plenty of irresistible music you have Junior Week.

We shall then be facing three days of mirth and merriment, of joy and jubilation, of gladness and gaiety, of anticipation and romance, of ruby punch and satin slippers, of syncopating banjos and stiff-bosomed shirts,—in short, of Junior Week.

"There is a time . . ." you know the rest of Johnny Bennett's oft quoted quotation from Ecclesiastes 3, and Junior Week will offer you many such times. The supreme moment, or rather prolonged succession of moments from thirty minutes past nine o'clock post meridian of the ninth of February to four o'clock ante meridian of the tenth day of February anno domini one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, is the Junior Prom.

"KEEP UP WITH THE PROCESSION"

Not long ago an elderly Episcopal clergyman was asked by one of his parish to give what he felt to be the most valuable rule of life. The parishioner expected some carefully formulated and elaborately complex theological direction and he was somewhat surprised by the clergyman's simple reply, "Keep up with the procession."

The college man often finds it difficult to keep in touch with important current events. He is studying the literature of the past and the history of the past,—it is a period of preparation for the proper appreciation and understanding of the present. Much of the time which he gives to reading is devoted to a reading of the past. When he turns to contemporary investigation it is generally for diversion in a magazine short story or a novel, which may be good but more often is merely transitory. He follows sporting news as a rule with avidity, but fails to keep posted on important political developments,— history in the making.

The past three or four years have seen some of the most monumental changes recorded in history. The great war in Europe and the mass of international affairs and relations which it involves is of course the big thing that is attracting the attention of the world. The position of our own United States in its efforts to secure peace for the warring nations should be known and understood by every college man. Economic developments should be followed. How many college men know anything about the Federal Reserve Act or the Rural Credits Act?

The Freshman class was recently given a "general information test," and the results in many instances showed an almost complete lack of knowledge of current events. We venture to say that a similar test in the other classes would not be much less disconcerting. College men are the men who are naturally looked to as the leaders of their communities. Are they genuinely fitted for leadership when they are lacking in an elementary knowledge of current events?

If the college man would spend two of the many hours he practically wastes each week, in reading some good weekly, he could keep in touch with what's going on in the world. The accumulation of information is in itself interesting, but its greatest value is that it is the essential basis for understanding current events. If you haven't the facts, you can't understand the developments.

"Keep up with the procession," for it won't wait for you.

MUSICAL CLUBS WELL RECEIVED AT TROY

The long haired Achaeans (long hair being an attribute of ancient fighters and modern musicians) besieged windy-wayed Ilium in the fertile Troad with success last Saturday night. The concert was given in the land where Aurora's rosy fingers stretch above the horizon, at the East Side Club, and was followed by a Terpsichorean exhibition with Troy's fair-haired Helens, who were there in profusion.

The sons of Priam, valorous R. P. I. men, also attended the concert in spite of the fact that it was "Card Day" at the Institute and that they were also celebrating the funeral rites of Calculus.

THE PAST AND PRESENT

Keep abreast with the times. We are not living in the stage-coach decade, at which time the mentioning of flying machines would have been taken as an idle jest. In the present century you wouldn't think of traveling as one did in by-gone days. Neither would you of having your shoes repaired by the old style hand method way, if you knew the superiority in our up-to-date machine way of repairing.

What Will You Wear During Junior Week?

The "Prom Girl" finds this a pleasing question. For days it has flitted before her mind while willing hands have stitched out ideas culled from VOGUE and VANITY FAIR. You, yourself, are as anxious as she to make a good impression. You wish to match her fully at the dance, the concert, the theatre and other places. You as well as she find that "changes" are imperative. Hart, Schaffner & Marx Evening Clothes well answer the need of the formal function, but for the rest a few new neckties and silk shirts, a pair of new gloves, and possibly a new suit will be very opportune. And if you worry over expenses remember that this is the time of mid-season sales at our store.

are the people whose lives have been related to Jesus Christ. You may not agree with me. You may think that the scholar, the architect, the builder, the engineer, contribute the great things. I tell you, no! The persons, the winning persons are those who in some definite way have been in alliance with our Lord.

"I am intensely interested in seeing you get on. I want to see you make good. But I tell you the winning thing, is a life in concordance with God.

"There is another word in the passage quite as important as 'think'—'Do!' It is a great satisfaction for one man to be able to address others with conviction, saying 'What you've seen in me, and learned from me, do!'

"I won't hope that you will all be missionaries. I want you fellows to be a lot of things. I want you to be chemists, teachers, engineers, and all sorts of things that will make the world a more satisfied one. But into whatever line you go, you will count the most only as you take the qualities of Jesus Christ into it, and make them real.

"Those of us who read the Bible have our favorite passages. Some read the same passages over and over again, and find new beauty with each reading. Henry Thoreau used to walk the same path each day for weeks, but in the end he wrote a most wonderful book about it,—about even this common familiar path. To my mind this is a favorite passage, this fourth chapter of Paul's letter. It contains the best of advice and I should like to have you become familiar with it.

It's mighty easy to go into the business of wholesale criticism. It sounds vigorous, but it doesn't go far. The business of being a Christian is not very well done. We 'name the name of Jesus' and that's as far as we go. If we would put our principles into real activity and doing, we would be better. I want 'nobly serious thinking,' but I want practical applications of Christianity, for the best way of living is that according to Jesus Christ. I want Him to be a real promise to you.

"'Nobly serious thinking' and 'Christly practical doing,'—these are the things to which you are called today."

The Musical Clubs' concert Thursday evening will be given at the Edison Club and will be followed by a dance.

The Sigma Phi fraternity will entertain at a tea dance from four to seven Friday afternoon. Four pieces of Wittstein's orchestra will play.

Friday night the Prom, the week's biggest, brightest and best event, will take place at the gym.

The Chi Psi fraternity will give their annual Junior Week tea Saturday afternoon from four to seven. O'Neil's orchestra will furnish the music.

There will be a basketball game with Williams at eight o'clock Saturday evening. This will be followed by dances at the fraternity houses.

At the Chapel service Sunday morning at eleven Dr. Richmond will be the speaker.

A committee of Louis Mann and Harold Sammons of the Interfraternity Conference will publish a Junior Week Program. The program will consist of sixteen pages and will be attractively bound in leather. It will contain the names of all the chaperones and guests at the fraternity house parties, and a few campus views. Orders for these programs should be placed with the committee at once.

Carl Reed of Springfield refereed the game.

The team left Schenectady at one o'clock on Friday and spent the night at Northampton. Saturday morning they gave the once over to the town and to about fifteen hundred of the younger feminine temporary inhabitants. The game was played at Amherst Saturday afternoon and the team returned to Schenectady Saturday night.

The squad will rest this week and regular practice will not be resumed until next Monday.
