GENERAL WOOD TO BE CHANCELLOR JUNE 9th

Will Act In Place of Late Col. Roosevelt.

A DISTINGUISHED SOLDIER

Controversy Waxed Strong After Removal From Post of Chief of Staff.

Major-General Leonard Wood, commanding general of the Central Department, United States Army, will be honorary chancellor at the 123rd Annual Commencement of Union College June 9th. President Richmond made this announcement to the faculty at its last meeting. General Wood will act in place of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, whose sudden death last month temporarily deprived Union of an honorary chancellor, Col. Roosevelt having consented to deliver the commencement address this year.

General Wood has probably been in the public eye longer than any living American military leader. A close friend of Col. Roosevelt since the Spanish-American War, his advancement in military circles in the period following the war was rapid. Long before America entered the Great War, he was an enthusiastic advocate of preparedness, his influence in this direction being at its height while he was Chief of Staff during the early part of the present administration. His removal from that high post and subsequent appointment as head of the Southeastern Department of the army was the occasion of a storm of criticism levelled at the then pacifically-inclined government. The failure of the War Department to make General Wood commander of the American Expeditionary Force occasioned further adverse comment. General Wood is an enthusiastic believer in athletics both for soldiers and for civilians. He declined last week to accept the post of chairman of the proposed national commission for boxing control, but requested a seat on the advisory board.

MUSICAL CLUBS GO TO

SKIDMORE APRIL 26

Manager Carroll C. Grinnell, of the Musical Clubs, has announced the completion of an agreement with the management of the musical clubs of the Skidmore School of Arts, providing for a joint concert of the Union and Skidmore Clubs at Saratoga April 26. So far this is the first concert to be scheduled for the Union clubs this year, but Manager Grinnell has others in view, and it is probable that several more will be held before the season is over.

WITTSTEIN TO MAKE MUSIC AT '20 PROM

Quality Keynote of Other Features, Too.

A Junior Prom to stick in the memory like the taste of mother's pie, a Prom to make the heart and feet rejoice and be glad, a Prom to bring the most inveterate grind out of his booky chrysalis,—all this is promised by the Junior Prom Committee and its chairman, J. D. Hagar. Chairman Hagar says that he has obtained for the occasion the services of what is considered the best dance orchestra in the East, Wittstein's, of New Haven. Wittstein's orchestra has not been engaged from outside recommendation alone. When it played here for the 1918 Prom, it was pronounced the best collection of dance-music talent ever to appear at Union. This year, the orchestra will include ten pieces.

Dance programs and favors will be furnished by Elliott, of Philadelphia, and will be of a kind, say members of the committee, worth keeping for ever and aye.

Just how many fraternities will gladden the hearts of the fair by entertaining at house parties during the festivities of Junior Week is not known, but early reports are most sanguine.

College Pledges Financial Aid

Enough Funds to Fit Out Three Rooms at Least.

With the announcement yesterday that the Board of Trustees had promised liberal financial aid to the College Union project, the completion of recreation rooms for students in Washburn Hall by Commencement this year became a practical certainty. Reports so far are indefinite as regards the amount of college funds which will be available for the improvements, but it is known that a large enough sum will be forthcoming to make possible the equipment of at least three rooms in the Red Building. These will be a kitchen, dining room and billiard room for the use of all students. The addition of a lounging room to the suite is possible. Plans for the immediate starting of work on the project and the selection of furniture for the rooms are to be settled on by the College Union Committee this week.

SPORTING ISSUE.

A special sporting issue of THE CONCORDIENSIS will appear tomorrow morning with full accounts of the opening of the baseball and track seasons and of the election Saturday night of a basketball captain.

Spring Term Begins With Two New Deans

BIG COMMENCEMENT WEEK ALMOST CERTAIN

Many Activities Revive at End of War.

BALL AMONG THEM

All Classes to Hold Reunions in Jubilee Week for War Heroes.

The greatest Commencement Week in the history of Union College is in prospect this year. With the war at an end the reaction from its enforced curtailment of activities already apparent, social affairs regarded as impossible through the war period will again make their appearance on the hill, "old grads," soldier-students, and friends of the college will flock back by hundreds, and dinners and festivities of all sorts will be more numerous than ever.

The announcement that Major-General Leonard Wood will be honorary chancellor at the 123rd Commencement insures a stirring address on Commencement Day, June 9th, a speech which will be entirely in accord with the spirit of the whole week, to be called "Union's Jubilee Week," in commemoration of the fact that 800 Union College men have been in the service during the war. The time-honored plan of having a stated number of alumni classes hold reunions each Commencement will be disregarded this year. All classes will hold reunions. Therefore it is practically certain that more Union alumni will return to their Alma Mater this year than in any other since the founding of the college.

Among the many activities to appear again after a period of somnolence extending through the war years, the Commencement Ball deserves especial notice. For three years now there has been no Senior dance at Commencement, the uncertainty as to its success being the cause for its temporary abolishment. This year a Commencement Ball which the Class of 1919 says will be the "biggest ever," will be held, as in the happy days when war was undreamed of.

A tentative program for the events of Commencement Week is as follows: Thursday, June 5, 8 P. M., prize oratoricals, college chapel.

Friday, June 6, 2 P. M., class day exercises, Captain Jackson's garden; 3 P. M., informal reception and dance, Hanna Hall; 6 P. M., Everyman's dinner, Mohawk Golf Club; 9 P. M., commencement ball, alumni gymnasium.

Dr. Ellery and Prof. Garis Are Appointed.

SUCCEED DEAN RIPTON

Dr. Ellery Head of Faculty; Prof. Garis Dean of Students; Change Gradual.

The new term began yesterday with the announcement that Dr. Edward Ellery and Prof. Charles F. F. Garis will together succeed Prof. Benjamin H. Ripton, for 25 years Dean of Union College. Dr. Ellery will act as dean of the faculty, while Prof. Garis will be dean of students. Prof. Ripton will continue as Professor of History and Government.

The Educational Committee of the Board of Trustees last week accepted the resignation of Prof. Benjamin H. Ripton as dean of the college and appointed Dr. Edward Ellery as dean of the faculty and Prof. C. F. F. Garis as dean of students. For some time it has been known that Dean Ripton wished to resign from the deanship because of ill-health, but not until last Thursday did the Board act upon his resignation. The plan of appointing two deans has been under consideration by the trustees for many weeks and, although it is a new departure for Union, it is regarded as the best way of allotting the work of dean of the college, the duties of dean being too heavy to be performed by one faculty member in addition to his other work.

It is expected that the appointment of Prof. Garis as dean of students will do away with the offices of class committeemen, who formerly acted as advisors to students on such matters as class standing and the choice of courses. Neither the abolition of the offices of class committeemen nor the relinquishment of his duties as head of the faculty by Dean Ripton will take effect immediately, however. The change will be gradual and may extend over several weeks. Prof. Ripton will continue as a member of the faculty, retaining his chair at the head of the department of History and Government.

The passing of Dean Ripton as head of the faculty and dean of students will be regretted by the hundreds of friends he has made among undergraduates and alumni during his 25 years' tenure of office. He became a member of the Union faculty in 1886, acting as Adjunct Professor of Mathematics. He had graduated from this college six years before with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. In 1886 he received his degree as Master of Arts here. From 1887 to 1894 he was Professor of Mathematics and from the latter year to 1910 he was Professor of History and Sociology. He has

This Year's Chancellor.

Union will be glad to welcome General Wood as her Honorary Chancellor this year. The custom of asking noted American soldiers to deliver the Commencement addresses through the war period, begun last year and to be continued in 1919, is a good one. Last year was memorable because the Chief of Staff, General Peyton C. March, was Chancellor; this Commencement, an American no less great in the eyes of his fellow-countrymen will honor us with his presence.

Great he may be in the conception of Americans; in the opinion of the War Department he is somewhat of a lesser being. Perhaps the view is shared by the Administration. At least that is the belief of not a few Americans who saw General Wood, a leader in the preparedness movement; saw him with indefatigable zeal establish the first civilian training camp at Plattsburgh; heard him in a speech at that camp urge the Administration in unmistakable terms to take a resolute stand against Germany;—and then saw him removed from the position of chief of staff; saw another general designated to lead our forces in France; and saw General Wood kept constantly on this side of the Atlantic, with little or no voice in the policy of the army abroad.

It is not our purpose to make any conjectures regarding the solution of the "General Wood mystery." The War Department maintains a discreet silence, and General Wood himself is under orders. Whether his reduction in rank was a political move or no will probably never be known. But we wish the evidence were at hand. The American people likes to exercise its judgment; it likes to be taken into the confidence of its political leaders.

It is far from likely that General Wood will allow himself to express a concrete opinion on any public question when he addresses the sons of Union College and their friends in June. And yet, how happy we should be if his great voice, hushed by the War Department's military gag rule, should ring forth again unhampered in the exercise of that characteristic Anglo-Saxon privilege, the right of free speech!

The Honor System Again.

The Honor System at Union College is under fire again. The Honor Court is about to revise its constitution, making the penalties for the violation of the system much more drastic than they were in the past. We believe that there is good reason for the move. Too many rumors of cribbing in examinations have lately percolated from examination rooms into the outside world to do anything less than weaken the general confidence in the efficacy of the Honor System in its present form. The latest of the rumors appears to have the backing of concrete facts. Should the evidence against the offenders in the recent light-hearted violation of the Honor System be weighty enough, the student body can expect from the Honor Court nothing less than the speedy punishment of the guilty. The violators could not have been ignorant of the probable results of their indiscretion. They were not Freshmen. It is unfortunate that the proposed change in the constitution, providing that first offenses by students other than Freshmen be punished by expulsion from college, was not made weeks ago.

MANY ATTENDED "Y"

GET-TOGETHER MONDAY

About sixty members attended the Y. M. C. A. get-together at Silliman Hall Monday night. The main object of the get-together was to serve as a reception for the members of the College Y. M. C. A. and it afforded the cabinet officers an excellent opportunity, since many of the members were present to choose their associates for the various committees.

During the course of the evening plans were discussed for the remainder of the college year. As a result the Y. M. C. A. has adopted an extensive program. After all business has been concluded refreshments were served in the form of ice cream and pie.

COURT PLANS AMENDMENTS.

The Honor Court will, in the near future, draft amendments to its constitution which will later be presented to the student body for ratification. The amendments will probably provide for public announcement in the case of Freshmen convicted of violations of the Honor System and for indefinite suspension in the case of all other convictions.

ALBERT CARMICHAEL, '11,

DIES IN TREVES, GERMANY

Relatives of Albert Carmichael, who graduated from Union with the class of 1911, have recently received word of his death in Treves, Germany, on January 2nd. Carmichael was a Schenectady attorney, and a former local supervisor.

Although his death occurred after the signing of the armistice, Carmichael none the less he fell in the pursuit of his duty. While a member of the Military Police in the occupied district, he was about to arrest an American soldier for an offense when the man shot him through the head with his pistol. Other military police soon succeeded in capturing the five men implicated in the crime, and the latter were subsequently tried by court martial. The sentence inflicted on the offenders is not known.

DR. ELLERY WOULD EXTEND STANDARD CHEMISTRY COURSE

Writes Article in Technical Monthly Urging Co-operation to That End.

Dr. Edward Ellery, head of the Chemistry Department, is the author of an interesting article on the "Training of the Chemist," which was published by the Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry in its edition for February.

In the article, Dr. Ellery advocates an extension of the course now given candidates for degrees in Chemical Engineering, saying that the length of the standard course now is insufficient for the thorough training of the industrial chemist. "Most of the criticisms of the training a chemist receives in the college, technical school or university," says Dr. Ellery, "comes to this: the graduate lacks judgment and imagination. That is no news to the men who have trained him; they have struggled to get better results. But granting that the young man has these qualities latent within when he comes into the institution, the mechanical character of his preparation, and the accepted method of laboratory instruction in chemistry in the early years of the course, as exemplified in most textbooks on the subject, constitute a severe handicap."

Pursuing his discourse, the writer says that the shortness of the time available for the training of the chemist makes it impossible to allow him to make mistakes and so develop his initiative and independence from the set phrases of the text-book and laboratory manual.

No way out of the difficulty will be in sight until the American Chemical Society and industrial chemical concerns combine in an efforts to induce colleges and technical schools to extend the length of the standard chemistry course, the article concludes.

And when he came to pay the bill

CASTS NEARLY READY FOR PLAYS SATURDAY

Eight Piece Orchestra Engaged for Dance; No "Cutting In."

The night of March 22 will see the presentation of the two plays by the Mountebanks. The casts of the "Crimson Coconut" and the "Late Delivery" are rehearsing diligently under Director John A. Holland, and their work presages success for the plays.

The two playlets will be presented in the gymnasium at 8:00 o'clock Saturday night. Manager Gregory announces that there will be dancing immediately after the performances. An eight-piece marimba orchestra has been secured for the occasion. There will be absolutely no "cutting-in" during the dancing.

Tickets were placed on sale last Saturday at Quinn's drug store, and the sale of seats to date promises a goodly crowd. Students are entitled to admission on their registration cards.

COLUMBIA'S NEW ENTRANCE EXAMS SMACK OF ARMY.

The standards for admission to Columbia College have been revised and enlarged to include not only the former scholastic requirements, but also a number of psychological tests, similar to those given in the United States army. According to Adam L. Jones, Director of Columbia University Admissions, the method of determining the desirability of a candidate at entrance will depend largely upon his previous school record, his character, and physical and mental hygiene. The last considerations are to be regarded as important factors in the candidate's admission, and the examination regarding the student's mentality will be of a general rather than specific character, testing his adaptability to college work rather than his previous preparation in secondary schools. These new requirements will take effect in June, 1919, and are probably an outgrowth of war conditions.

held the chair of History and Government since 1910. Union granted him the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in 1895, Syracuse the degree of Doctor of Laws in 1896, and this college the same degree in 1909.

On Friday of this week the Alumni Association of Northeastern New York will hold a dinner in his honor. The occasion will be on Prof. Ripton's 62nd birthday.

Dr. Edward Ellery, the new Dean of the Faculty, came here in 1904 as head of the Department of Chemistry. He graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Colgate in 1880 and later received the degree of Master of Arts from his Alma Mater in 1893 and of Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Heidelberg in 1896. The honorary degree of Doctor of Science was conferred upon him by Colgate in 1912. Before coming to Union, Dr. Ellery had studied for several years in Germany and had been for seven years Head Master of Vermont Academy.

Professor Garis, who will soon begin his duties as Dean of Students, graduated from Lafayette College with the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy in 1903, accepting an instructorship in mathematics here in the same year. In 1906 he was made Assistant Professor, and has been head of the Mathematics Department since 1908.

COMMITTEE AT WORK ON "UNION" CONSTITUTION.

A sub-committee has been appointed and is busy drawing up a constitution for the "College Union." The proposed plan for the management of this new institution is through a board of directors, ten in number. These are to be chosen, two from each of the three upper classes, two from the faculty and two from the alumni.

By such an arrangement it is hoped that a condition of continuity and stability may be effected. A petition is to be presented to President Richmond, which he in turn will pass on to the trustees of the college, who, it is anticipated, will devise some means of financing the endeavor.
