WESLEYAN AND PELHAM SPELL UNION DEFEATS

Tenth Inning in First Game Turns
Balance in Foe's Favor.

PELHAM GAME SLOW

Hanley Makes First Score in Fourth With Homer, but Navy
Piles Up Score, 17-6.

If there was ever a cause for men to lose their tempers and call upon "Di Immortales" in seven languages it must have been after the Wesleyan game Friday. With a two-point lead in the ninth inning and two out, Chuck Hughes faced the last batsman, so everyone thought, when he hit a high bounder. Peaslee grabbed it and threw home. The throw was pretty high and went through Wittner, letting in the run that tied the score, 7-7.

Then came the tenth, which was still more fatal for Union. Raines slammed the horsehide for a home run and the game was over. Union outplayed Wesleyan throughout the greater part of the game, but the loose work in the last lap cost her a victory.

Hughes and Woodruff were the opposing pitchers. Hughes pitched the more consistent game, Woodruff being wild. Union took advantage of this and piled up a good score. The opponents scored first when Watson singled and made the rest of the trip on two sacrifices.

The total was raised to three in the third. Thornton walked, took second on a sacrifice and came in on Fancher's error. Then came a two-bagger by Bateman which scored Boote. The Garnet entered the run column in this inning. Hughes singled and Jamieson got on through an error by Watson. Peaslee followed up the play with a single, scoring Hughes. Quick work on the part of the Wesleyan players, however, caught Jamieson off second on the return throw.

The Garnet continued her good work in the fourth and took the lead. With two men out, Green walked. Hochuli and Mallory. Wittner's timely hit and a beneficent error on the part of Green put two runs across the plate. When Chuck Hughes beat out a hit of shortstop, Wittner scored. The Garnet added two more in the sixth by a base on balls, Fancher's hit, a balk and Hanley's hit to left field.

Peaslee's home run in the eighth gave Union her last score. Ryan scored twice in the seventh on Mallory's error and Tomlinson's homer, and twice in the ninth on several misplays and hits combined.

With reverent pity we pass over the tenth. Raines simply hit homer and the game was Wesleyan's. The work of both captains featured in the game. George Hughes pitched a good game throughout.

SIGMA XI ELECTS SIX NEW MEMBERS FROM PRESENT SENIOR CLASS

Six men from this year's graduating class were elected into Sigma Xi, the honorary fraternity for scientific and engineering students. The men elected are: August John of Schenectady, John D. Brown of Bridgeport, Conn., Henry A. Clarke of Williamsport, Pa., Bruce A. Hainsworth of Gloversville, Ernest R. Slade, also of Gloversville, and Louis Spraragen of Warwick, N. Y.

The Sigma Xi fraternity, established in 1867, has as its purpose the encouragement of scientific research. Election into the order, which is one of the highest honors a scientific or engineering student can gain, is based not only upon scholastic standing, but also according to ability shown in independent scientific research.

John D. Brown is manager of the track team, a member of the Idol Club, the Press Club, and the Radio Club, and was vice-president of his class in his Junior year. He is a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Henry A. Clarke is a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Bruce A. Hainsworth is a prominent member of his class, being Art Editor of THE CONCORDIENSIS, a member of the Gloversville Club and the Gillespie Society.

August John has been one of the best chemical students at the college. He is a member of the Chemical Society and the winner of Sophomore Chemical prize.

Ernest R. Slade has for the past year been in charge of Employment Bureau of the College Christian Association. He has been active in Class basketball and is a member of the Gloversville Club. He is now in the service as engineering student officer.

Louis Spraragen during his four years at college has been a prominent member of his class. He is a student in the Civil Engineering Department.

UNION'S QUOTA TO PLATTS- BURG LEAVES JUNE 3

Battalion Invited to Parade On Memorial Day.

The one month Reserve Officers' Training Camp to which Union's quota will be sent, will be held at Plattsburgh. The camp will begin on the morning of Monday, June 3rd. The Union College student cadets will report at the office of the camp adjutant to the commanding officer at noon June 2, 1918.

All student cadets will be equipped with the following: Union College uniform of the R. O. T. C.; Two breeches, two shirts, flannel, O. D.; one pair shoes, double-soled; two changes of underwear; toilet articles, brushes, razor, soap, four towels; one copy of the infantry drill regulations, field drill service regulations; small arms firing manual; and manual of interior guards. They will be prepared to deposit five dollars, required to insure the careful use of bedding and tentage provided by the government.

The College Battalion has received an invitation to parade on Memorial Day. Since there will be no classes on May 30, all the members of the battalion should be able to take part in this parade. All students who can take part should hand in their names at once, as the Grand Marshal of the Memorial Day parade requests an early and favorable reply, thus to signalize the devotion to the nation's honored dead.

Last Friday the battalion was forced to make a hasty retreat. The "enemy" in the form of the elements, broke up the battalion's "encampment," and necessitated a double-time march back to the gymnasium. The thunder storm which came up so suddenly caught the battalion near the

TENNIS TEAM SOLE LIGHT IN WEEK'S SPORT

Racquet Men Make Clean Sweep in Each Match.

The one shining light on this dark page of Union's athletic history was the work of the tennis team, which defeated Springfield Y. M. C. A. Training School. The Union racquet men made a clean sweep and won everything in both singles and doubles.

Wilbur had only to go two sets with his man in the singles to silence the enemy's guns, and in the same way Rosenthal and Hawkes made short work of their doubles.

Wadsworth and Wilbur lost out on the first set of the doubles but quickly rallied and came across with two straight victories in the second and third sets.

The summary:

Singles—

Wadsworth defeated Fink, 6-2; 3-6; 6-3.

Wilbur defeated Jeffery, 6-1; 6-2.

Hawkes defeated McMichael, 6-3; 3-6; 6-1.

Lefkowitz defeated Munson, 2-6; 6-2; 6-4.

Doubles—

Wadsworth and Wilbur defeated Jeffery and Fink, 8-6; 6-4; 6-3.

Hawkes and Rosenthal defeated Munson and McMichael, 6-1; 6-0.

Ellis Hospital. While one company established an outpost, approximately along Rosa Road, the rest of the Battalion "pitched camp" in the field below. Everything was done in detail, as far as it was possible to do so.

Although many of the Battalion officers are leaving, the work has now progressed to a point where all the cadets can play an important part. The absence of these officers is felt, but new officers will soon be able to fill their places.

TRACK MEN DEFEATED IN KEEN CONTEST

Union Opens Well in 100 Yard,
Lags, Then Strengthens.

GOOD INDIVIDUAL

Jones Highest Point Maker, While
V. Lyman Wins 220 Hurdle and Rapelje Stars in Pole Vault.

The annual Williams track meet Saturday afternoon proved disastrous to Union when the Purple and Gold men carried home a 71-45 victory. Although no records were smashed, there was a spirit of keen competition throughout. Union got off with a fine opener in the 100 yard dash by putting both Jones and Northrop across for first and second places, but lagged in the middle of the match, to strengthen again at the close.

Jones was the highest point getter for the Garnet. He took first place in the 100 yard dash, third in the broad jump and won the pole vault, scoring in all 11 points. V. Lyman buoyed up Union's lagging spirits somewhat by taking first place in the 220 yard low hurdle. Hay and Miller also came through with second and third places in the sixteen pound shot put.

Rapelje carried off the honors in the high jump with ease. Anderson of Williams, who got second place had to stop at five feet two inches. The bar was then put up four inches but Rap stepped over as easily as before. The next move was five feet eight, and here he struck a snag and did not try again.

In the hammer throw Beekman heaved the pill for first place, 115 feet, 7 inches and Hay took second place in the same event.

Olson was Williams' chief point-getter, scoring in the 220 and 100 yards dashes. Many are of the opinion that the tide of victory might have been turned to Unions credit had Chuck Hughes been able to enter.

According to the rules of a dual meet, Jones, Rapelje, and V. Lyman will be awarded the "U," each having secured at least five points. Captain Northrop also got his points but received his letter some time ago.

The summary:

100 yard dash—Won by Jones, Union; second, Northrop, Union; third, Olson, Williams. Time, 10 3-5 seconds.

One mile run—Won by Parker, Williams; second, Joslyn, Williams; third, Allerton, Union. Time, 10:03 2-5.

120 yard high hurdle—Won by Mixer, Williams; second, Schermerhorn, Williams; third, Booth, Williams. Time, 17 3-5 seconds.

440 yard run—Won by Kieser, Williams; second, Martyn, Williams; third, Potter, Union. Time, 53 seconds.

Two mile run—Won by Crofts, Williams; second, Parker, Williams; third, McLean, Union. Time, 10:30.

Give Us Men.

For half a century after the framing of our Constitution, European nations were watching the new government with interest and expectancy, for they all looked forward to its ultimate failure. Even at late as 1857, and by a statesman as great as Macaulay, the belief was shared that our existence was but temporary, as is shown in the following extract from a letter to H. S. Randall of Boston:

"In a government such as yours there is bound to be spoliation. For with you, the majority is the government and has the rich, who are always in minority, at its mercy. On one hand you will have a statesman standing for principles, on the other a demagogue preaching that it is wrong for one class to ride in carriages while another slaves to earn its bread. Is it possible to doubt what sort of a legislature will be chosen by a people which has had but half a breakfast and does not expect to have more than a dinner?"

There is no alternative. Your Constitution is all sap and no anchor. Either some Caesar or Napoleon will come and overthrow your government or the ruins of your government will be the ruins of your country.

with a strong hand or it will be hopelessly plundered by barbarians of the nineteenth century as the Roman Empire was in the fifth; with this exception, that the Huns and Vandals of the Roman Empire came from without, while yours are engendered in your own boundaries by your own institutions."

Was Macaulay endowed with a prophetic spirit? Are there Huns and Vandals here in the guise of patriots to exploit the government by appealing to the passions of the mob? Is our democracy to be recorded a failure like the democracy of Greece?

The fact that German sympathizers are present in every neighborhood would seem to indicate that democracy has not reached a very high stage of efficiency, or at least is a bit lax—for there are no American sympathizers in Berlin. The fact that Germany has been able to prolong this war, with such fiendish success against the combined forces of nearly the entire civilized world, while we, after a year of recognized hostility, are just beginning to land men in France seems to indicate that the machinery of democracy is not geared to compete with that of autocracy.

The one argument in favor of autocracy is that with an efficient emperor the nation is bound to prosper. The one hope for democracy is that the people will confer offices of trust upon trustworthy men and not be inveigled by demagogues.

Two governments are similar in this respect, that the success of both is due to the executives who govern them. What might have been the consequences of our Civil War without Lincoln? Yet no executive ever interpreted the Constitution more loosely than he. No emperor at Rome was ever more absolute. He was the supreme and only power. People realized it, Congress was bewildered and could do nothing but pass every measure that he proposed. What consequences must have occurred had his motives been other than noble and patriotic?

But Lincoln's administration of the Civil War demonstrated this—that no nation's fate is more directly in the hands of its executive than ours. The Constitution which has carried us through almost two centuries of diversified conditions will serve any purpose. We must no longer put our trust in statutes, but in men. For the longer we live as a nation, the more we must come to believe the words of Plutarch, "The history of human progress is but the story of a few great men."

The history of this nation has been and will be a story of the achievements of a few great men. We must educate the people to the fact that men are going to rule them, not laws; that these men will determine progress or deterioration of the nation; that the acts of one statesman are of more value than the tongues of a thousand demagogues. Our motto for all time must be, not alone "In God We Trust," but "God Give Us Men."

CHI PSIS ENTERTAIN AT WEEK-END HOUSE DANCE

Instead of the annual spring dance there was a miniature house party at the Chi Psi Lodge, Saturday and Sunday. Several out-of-town girls as well as a few from Schenectady were present. Mrs. Lochner of Albany and Mrs. Van Olinda acted as chaperons. In all there were about nine or ten couples present together with the usual number of stags. A few of the enlisted brothers, Marsh, '20, Kedder, '20 and Price, '20, were fortunate in obtaining leaves to attend. The music for the informal dance Saturday night was furnished by Zita of Albany.

A little downhearted the next morning after the Wesleyan game, in which Union without question played the better ball, the Garnet players had to grin at a 17-0 defeat at the hands of elham Bay Naval Training School.

The game was rather slow and ragged on both sides. The sailors evidently knew their grounds, for they scored in every inning and in the eighth piled up seven runs, giving a sum total of seventeen. The field had about as much grass upon it as a basketball court, so that a ball over the fielders' heads could roll until it got tired out.

Benny Beaver for the first time this season tried his hand at twirling. Although he was hit hard, he did not weaken until about the sixth inning. Most of the runs in the early part of the game were not due to the pitcher so much as to poor support and misplays.

The opponents started Moose, "a Injun," on the mound. His nationality was his most formidable asset. He is supposed to be professional timber, but once they got the combination of his slow underhand ball, the Garnet batters had no trouble in hitting him all over the field. Fagarty was called to the rescue but was so wild he lasted but part of an inning. Finally, Davies was summoned and held down the big lead without much difficulty. Laskowski was put in to relieve Beaver in the seventh but was also hit hard.

The Garnet lineup underwent some changes. Hughes replaced Smukler at center field and Hochuli and Wittner were moved up in the batting order.

CHRISTIAN NATIONS DO NOT WAR, SAYS RIPTON

Hatred Destructive Yet to Fight is Often Necessary—But Without Hatred.

In accordance with a recent decision of the College Christian Association after a conference with fraternity members and some of the faculty, the vesper services yesterday afternoon at 5:00 P. M. was held in Captain Jackson's Garden.

The program has been elaborated, a feature of yesterday's meeting being two vocal selections by Mrs. Hutchinson of the Park Avenue Presbyterian Church. The speaker of the occasion was Dean Ripton, whose subject was, "Christ's Principles in War-time." This same topic will be discussed from a different standpoint in the two proposed services to come.

The Dean's position in the argument is that truly Christian nations would not go to war. War is not a Christian institution, he argued, and therefore its outcome should not in any way change our religion or weaken our faith in God.

He denounced hatred as the most destructive of passions and the cause for all wars, yet he said, "We must fight." Admitting that the fight without hating is an intensely difficult thing to do he showed that it can be done and must be done in order to correct evil.

He showed where Christ was the most uncompromising of men, without a weak or effeminate trait in his nature. He recognized no happy medium of loyalty but said, "He who is not for me is against me." Yet he was not a hater as is amply proved when at his crucifixion he said, "Father forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Imitation of Christ then is not whipping, but forgiving, for it is only the man who does not hate who can carry through an unbiased, consistent, never-weakening fight.

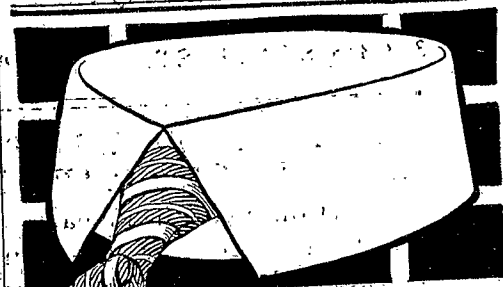

"How are we going to win the war?" Germany, he went on to say, has shown in this war unparalleled power and intellect but we can not stoop to the things she has deigned to do in order to combat it. We can never hope to win by being like Germans. There must be another way.

The other way, he pointed out, is the spirit with which we have entered this great conflict, not for trade, territory or selfish ambition, but for a better world. "The United States comes into this war with its idealism: our only ambition is to make the world a better place. That is a Christian motive and that will win the war."

WESLEYAN AND PELHAM SPELLS UNION DEFEATS

The sailors opened the game as if they meant to win. Pfluger, the first man to bat, hit a home run over Hughes's head and made the circuit without any trouble. Weber and Oed were passed, but Beaver prevented further scoring by striking out Roberts and DeNike.

In Union's half Fancher got as far as first base on a walk but nothing more was stirring. In the second, likewise, there was no score from Union, although Wittner was hit and got to first, Mallery singled and got through on an error. Jamieson's high fly, however, spilled the beans and there was no score.

In Pelham's half, Hennessey walked, took second while Peaslee was throwing out Morse, and scored on Pfluger's hit.

The Garnet made its first score in the fourth when Bill Hanley came across with a homer and made the circuit without difficulty. The navy, however, continued to pile up the markers. They made two in the third on two singles and a hit batter, and another in the fourth on two hits and an error. A double in the fifth and an error by Hughes let in another run, which was followed up in the sixth by three more on an error, two singles and a homer.

In this inning Union made another tally when Wittner and Hughes walked, DeNike kicked Mallery's bounder and Pfluger muffed a high one from Beaver's bat. On the last play, however, the left fielder managed to throw Hughes out at third.

Pelham got another in the seventh, but the eighth we shall again pass over reverently. Five hits, two errors, a base on balls and a hit batter gave them five runs.

Union managed to score four runs in the ninth on account of Fagarty's wildness, but a change of pitchers ended everything.
