WITTNER PRACTICES AT QUARTERBACK

Military Drill Defers Practice
Until Dark.

VARSITY STILL FUMBLES

Hochuli, Travis and Hanley Receive Minor Injuries Yesterday Afternoon.

Football practice on Tuesday was considerably delayed by military training. Practice began at four o'clock by tackling the dummy and rolling under the rope. Then followed signal practice. At five forty-five the teams were lined up for scrimmage. Hal Wittner acted as quarterback on the first team with Moynihan as halfback. Travis played fullback on the second team. The features of the play were Hal's work at quarter and Travis's playing on the scrubs.

The second team bolstered by Travis was able to withstand the attacks of the varsity. The most common fault on the part of the varsity was that of fumbling. This, no doubt, was partly due to darkness. During the scrimmage Hochuli, slightly injured, was replaced by Speer. Hanley received a black eye and Travis sprained his thumb.

Coach Murray gave the first indication of his plans for Saturday when it is expected Wittner's return will cause a shifting of the line-up. That this shift as played, Jones, Hanley, Moynihan and Wittner in the backfield with Travis on the scrubs, is final is not considered probable as Travis is without question the most consistent ground gainer on the squad. He has, however, been overworked in the last two games and Murray may plan on saving him until his drive will count greatest. Any other combination is guess work at present, but it is an open secret that Murray has several tentative line-ups in his mind, among which are some radical changes from the one in force at present.

HONOR COURT APPOINTS COMMITTEE TO CONSIDER CHANGE IN CHAPEL MARKING

The Honor Court met this afternoon to take preliminary action regarding the proposed plan of putting chapel attendance under the Honor System and thus relieve the faculty from the duty of marking chapel. A committee was appointed to devise a tentative scheme whereby this could be done and to confer with President Richmond and Dean Ripton as to what concessions the faculty would be willing to make, as it was felt by the members of the court that the student body would not approve any system which did not allow them to take as many bolts as they may now take. Under the present system they often are able to have more bolts than the allowed number, owing to the absence of the marker on days when they happen to be absent.

It was also thought that if chapel attendance was put under the Honor System it should not be regarded as any course of study.

James McMurray, '19, was elected neutral representative on the Honor Court to succeed William Watts, ex-'19.

CLASSICAL CLUB STUDIES CLASSICAL INFLUENCES

The Classical Club will hold its first meeting for this season on Tuesday evening, October 23. Edward M. Cameron '18, president of the club, says that a unified course of study will be pursued this year by the Classical Club. The course covers the influence of Greek and Roman writers on the thought and literature of modernity. Dr. T. K. Whipple will be the first speaker and will give a paper introductory to this course of study at the meeting Tuesday evening, dealing with the influence of classicism in general.

PRE-MEDICS WILL CEMENT FRIENDSHIPS

The Pre-med students held a meeting this afternoon to organize for the purpose of forming a social society. It is their intention to open a club room in South College and propitiate union and fraternity among the students of the Pre-med course.

FRATERNITY PLEDGES.

Phi Delta Theta—Vincent Seefeld '21, of Malvern, Penn.
Lambda Chi Alpha—W. J. Decker '20, of Hunter, N. Y.; H. Thorpe '21 of Burlington, Vt.; R. M. Andrew '20, of Gunderland; J. B. Hoppe, Jr., '20, of Poughkeepsie; C. D. Gillespie '20, of Scotia; J. L. Robertson '21, of Hoosick Falls; E. R. Dickson '21, of Hoosick Falls, and H. Willetts, of Troy.

ANOTHER ONE FALLS.

Ralph S. Clark '18, was married to Miss Dorothy Peck, of Kalamazoo, last Friday at Augusta, Georgia. Clark is a second lieutenant in the Pennsylvania field artillery stationed at Camp Hancock. He received his commission at Madison Barracks last summer.

"YOU CAN SAVE $50," SAYS DR. RICHMOND

President Richmond made a few remarks after chapel yesterday morning concerning the Liberty Loan.

"This is our chance to do something the government has asked us to do," he said. "Those of our number who have gone into the army may give their lives. Think what it would mean to you if you had to go out there on the campus and be shot down. We must take care of these boys. We must see that they are equipped with the food, with clothing and with ammunition, of the best possible kind. That is what this loan is for."

"There is no one of you who cannot save fifty dollars. Take this appeal seriously. It is your chance to do something that the government wants you to do."

WAR LITERATURE TO BE STUDIED BY CLUB

The English Club will hold its second meeting of the year Friday night, October 19. At this meeting two members from the Senior class will be elected to membership and the year's program will be laid before the club by the committee appointed at the last meeting to decide upon the subject for study and the topics for the various papers.

This committee decided on studying the literature of politics and its connection with the war. The papers to be presented by various members will deal with recent ideas of democracy, militarism and pacifism. Ireland and the war, various schools of political thought, the poetry and the fiction of the war.

FIRST BOND SALES ARE ENCOURAGING

$1,000 Subscribed Up to Noon
Today.

FROSH MAY INVEST

Project Launched to Abandon Peerade, Buying Bond for Y.
M. C. A. With Money.

The selling of Liberty Bonds by the committees appointed by the Terrace Council to canvass each class has thus far met with results which justify encouragement. Up to noon today $1,000 in bonds had been disposed of to students, with several of the committeemen not yet heard from.

Some interesting speculation is being aired as to the total amount of bonds the students will take. Figures based on different results give widely different estimates. One salesman reports that he has sold bonds aggregating $250 among the eight students whom he has thus far approached, some of whom did not subscribe. If this is a fair average it would mean that among the four hundred men in college $12,500 in bonds would be sold. Another salesman has broached the matter to fifteen men with the result that but two men each took one $50 bond. At this rate the entire student body would buy only $2,500 worth of bonds.

However it is not from the students alone that the bond salesmen expect to realize their sales. At least one fraternity is contemplating buying a bond and the Freshman class may invest in one.

A movement has started among the Freshmen to abandon the Frosh Peerade and with the tax collected from the student body for the purpose of defraying the cost of the Peerade buy Liberty Bonds and present them to the Y. M. C. A. Last year the Frosh Peerade cost $188.00. This year at least $150 and maybe $200 could be realized from the collection of the tax. The Freshmen will hold a meeting tomorrow noon to express their opinion regarding the matter and the Terrace Council will later take action.

STEAM CRACKS WALL IN HANNA HALL

Owing to an escape of steam from the basement of Washburn Hall, which cracked a few of the wooden panels on the north wall of Hanna Hall, it was necessary to remove the entire wainscoting on that side. It will probably be two weeks before new panels can be secured and inserted. The repair work was begun yesterday.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1917

The Liberty Loan and Union College Students.

The students of Union College are asked to buy Liberty Bonds. To them it is not a question of investing their money. They are spending money, not investing it. To them it is a question of saving enough out of what they spend to buy a bond.

There are but few of the four hundred men in college who cannot save one dollar each week out of what they spend for non-essentials—tobacco, theatre tickets, nut sundaes. One dollar a week for fifty weeks buys a bond.

There are but few who cannot buy on the other installment plan: One dollar down, nine dollars on November 15, twenty dollars on December 15 and twenty dollars on January 15, 1918.

Some there are who have funds on hand with which to buy a fifty dollar bond outright. They can dispose of it at any time in case they need the cash.

There are a few who can afford to buy a bond on none of these plans, a few who have to figure their expenditures to the last penny. No one questions their patriotism or desires to urge them to participate in the loan. But they are few. Most of us four hundred students can afford it.

Last spring one hundred and twenty-five Union College students gave themselves to the country when the call came for volunteers. They may give their lives.

Now the call comes for money. How many of the four hundred men now in college will give that?

No, not give it, loan it, but give the little privations that they will have to endure to make the loan?

We believe that there are many who can and will.

For Class or Country?

The Freshman Peerade, whatever there is about it to justify its existence in our scheme of things, is infinitesimally inconsequential when compared with the importance of Union College making a respectable showing in the Liberty Bond campaign.

The Freshman Peerade is a matter of class and college spirit. The Liberty Loan is a matter of national spirit.

The Freshman Peerade brings benefits to costumers and fancy-dress purveyors in Troy. The Liberty Loan takes care of the United States army in France and the United States navy on the seas.

The Freshman Peerade bestows upon about one hundred and fifty men the pleasure which mortals derive from trying to appear ludicrous. The Liberty Loan helps to confer on all mankind the pleasure derived from the blessings of freedom.

"To hell with the Hapsburgs and the Hohenzollerns!" is a current battle cry. To consign the Frosh Peerade to the same region will aid the cause.

So then, to hell with the Peerade! Buy bonds with the money!

A Clean Game.

Union College,
October 15th, 1917.

Editor of THE CONCORDIENSIS:

Dear Sir: It seems that the opportunity of expressing our appreciation of the Williams game should not be lost, and it is for this reason that I am writing this letter to THE CONCORDIENSIS.

The game was very interesting to say the least, yet it is not on this account especially that it ought to be spoken of, but because of the remarkably clean playing and good sportsmanship of the members of both teams. It certainly is a pleasure to have athletic relations with a college, which sends out gentlemen to represent it on the gridiron. So far as could be seen from the side lines, there was not a single instance of any unfairness, and this is verified by the fact that there were very few penalties. It was a great revelation to see the several members of the two teams helping their opponents to their feet after a hard scrimmage and giving them a word of encouragement. The game was hard-fought throughout, and there were plenty

THE RETURN.

Let the wind clutch with its long grey fingers

The pines on the mountain top.

Let it snatch at the yellow clouds,

Spoiling their beauty.

Let it moan down

Over the precipices of the world

Desolately.

Let the wind sweep through the meadows,

Tearing the flowers,

Uprooting and flinging them,

Breaking in fury

On the tall field grasses,

Clutching great branches from the

Ah, then let the wind,

The voice of my sorrow,

Crash through the garden,

Plunging with reckless fury into the flower plots,

Where I, unmindful of the roses,

Am waiting,

Tearless, inarticulate,

Till they bring him in to me.

GOOD MORNING, JUDGE.

After reading our last Friday's effete effusion, a thoughtful reader remarked that he thought Concordy had some extremely interesting advertisements.

But then as the artist of Greenwich Village says, "You can't draw water in an empty well."

We are sorry that F. P. A. has given up his "Conning Tower" in the Tribune to devote his energies to the government at Washington. When we suggested that P. A. B. was a worthy substitute, we felt very much encouraged by this reply: "After looking over your 'Good Morning, Judge' stuff, we are more than ever convinced of the injustice of our country's calling upon Mr. F. P. A., when it ought to be sending you to the front line trenches."

When we note this in a recent Concordy, "Blank is also a baseball player of no mean ability, and so we elect him to the roll of Union's distinguished athletes for his all round work but mostly for his spirit and his loyalty to the old college," we are minded of some of our own contributions last summer to the "Foremost Citizens of Fullers Crossing" series, which we published in the Fullers Crossing Eagle; thusly: "Lem Parkers, in his official capacity of town constable has shown himself a capable arm of the law, and so we elect him to the roll of Fullers Crossing's most foremost citizens for his constabulistic capabilities in general, but mostly for his loyalty to our village and to the Republican party in particular." The Eagle, being naturally of a mercenary nature, charged Lem five dollars for same, which he promises to pay if re-elected.

We sometimes wish we had a "vawst maws of material" to fill our colyumnn.

Our thoughtful reader admits that he thinks we already have too much.

But even so, we wish the make-up man wouldn't drop out our P. A. B. slub.

CHEM. CLUB MAKES 3 JUNIORS MEMBERS

A meeting of the Chemical Society was held at four-thirty yesterday afternoon in South College. The members of the society were to have been given a talk by Mr. Salathe but owing to military drill he was obliged to postpone his lecture until the next meeting. This will take place Tuesday, October 30th. Dr. Salathe's lecture then will concern the relation of modern chemistry to the present war.

At the meeting yesterday Oscar J. Shultz '19, Madison Scheely '19 and Warner M. Lyman '19 were elected to membership. No provision has as yet been made to fill the office of vice-president left vacant by the calling of Harold R. Baird '19 into the draft army. This matter will probably be settled at the next meeting.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB DISCONTINUED FOR YEAR

The Cosmopolitan Club of Union has decided to suspend meetings for this college year owing to lack of foreign representation in college. Eleven members of the club have not returned and the Freshman class has not furnished enough men to compensate for this loss. The officers hope to be able to continue the club next year, a large attendance of foreign students being expected.

The names of the men who have left college are: J. W. Upp '17, E. C. Vrooman '17, A. Mursa '17, A. Borelli '18, W. G. Carey, Jr., '18, T. L. Madden '18, T. Blair '19, A. Junquiera '19, T. Ouyang '17, G. E. Moston '17, M. Kolodjiez '19.

RADIO CLUB IS PLANNING PROGRAM

The program of the Radio Club for the coming year will be announced shortly, pending a meeting of a committee of the club some time this week. The committee will consist of Prof. Upson, Matern '18, Schamberger '19, Schabbehar '18, and Newell '18. Plans for the work of the coming year and dates of future meetings will come up before the committee.

ANOTHER UNION MAN GOING TO FRANCE

Ralph DeRose ex-'19 spent Monday on the campus. DeRose has been at the Aviation School at Ithaca where he has taken preliminary work in flying. He left yesterday for an Atlantic port where he expects to take immediate passage to France.

ADELPHICS MAKE HEATLY PRESIDENT

At a meeting of the Adelpic Society held Monday afternoon Clyde Heatly '18 of Schenectady was elected president for the coming year. Charles Brind '19, of Albany was elected vice-president and Roland LeGrange '19 of this city was made secretary-treasurer.

Princeton students are boosting the second Liberty Loan with red-fire parades, brass bands, mass meetings, and subscriptions.

DEBATERS CHOOSE SUBJECTS FOR DEBATE

The Philomathean Debating Society held its regular weekly meeting last night. Plans for the ensuing year were discussed. It was decided to hold meetings every Tuesday evening. All Freshmen and upper-classmen interested in debating are urged to attend the next meeting on Tuesday, October 23rd.

Programs were adopted for the next two weeks. Next Tuesday there will be a debate on the subject, Resolved: That in the United States the declaration of war should rest upon a direct referendum of the people.

The following Tuesday the subject, Resolved: That all criticism (written or spoken) of adopted policies of the government directly concerning the war should be suppressed, will be debated.

The first subject will be upheld on the affirmative by Sevits '18 and Lovenheim '20, and on the negative by Metzner '19 and Friedman '21. Poersch '18 and Martin '21 will uphold the affirmative and Rock '20 and King '21 the negative of the second subject.

L. Friedman '21 and Rock and Lovenheim '20 were elected into the club.

GILLESPIE SOCIETY MEETS TONIGHT AT 7:30

The Gillespie Society meets in Room 106, General Engineering Building, at 7:30 tonight to perfect its organization and decide on the character and scope of the year's work. Such action is necessary as a result of Arthur Newman's departure from college, as he was chairman of the committee which had the program in charge.

All Freshman and Sophomore engineering students and upper-class civil engineering students are invited to attend the meeting tomorrow night. Prof. McDaniels will address the club.

The Princeton '21 football team will play Exeter October 27, Blair Academy November 3, and Harvard '21, November 10. Yale '21 will be played but the date has not yet been agreed upon.

With "Hal's" return the forward pass will come into its own. The big quarter has great skill in handling the pigskin and his throwing is accurate and sharp. From the "vast mass of material" the squad has to pick ends from he will probably be able to find a man to take Foster's place in the great ground gaining duo that scored so heavily for Union last season.

The team came through the Amherst contest in first class shape and so the training, this week will be stiff and long. The kicking problem is a serious one. Jones Hay and Hanley are working out daily but no one of them is the needed man. Practice will be held all afternoon for those who can make it, from 5:30 on for those who drill, and almost daily noon signal drills.

The team will leave for New York so time Friday, and a demonstration will probably be held. Some forty or fifty men plan to make the game and take care of the cheering end of the contest.

Y. M. C. A. "GET-TOGETHER" FOR FROSH TUESDAY

Last night the Y. M. C. A. held a very informal meeting for those interested in the association work. Plans for the year were discussed and a few committees of the Freshmen appointed to help the committee heads in their work. Among the events discussed were the class "get-together." The Freshman get-together will be held next Tuesday and a general turn-out is expected. Many members of the faculty and their wives will be there, so that this meeting will be a good chance for the Freshmen not only to get to know each other, but to meet the faculty. After the meeting light refreshments were served.

Colgate has a registration of 400, of whom 175 are Freshmen.

SELLING BONDS AT WILLIAMS COLLEGE

(From the Williams Record.)

A campaign to aid in the sale of Liberty Bonds has been undertaken by the Good Government Club. Three committees have been formed, one for canvassing among the Freshmen, another for work among the fraternities, and a third to assist in selling the bonds to the towns-people. Professors Clark, Doughty, and MacLaren have volunteered their services and will speak at different times during the week at all the fraternity houses and at the Commons.
