UNION TEAM PRIMED FOR HARD FIGHT

Recent Practice Has Developed Excellent Team Work.

DARTMOUTH A WINNER

But Defeat at Hands of Princeton Last Night Many Augur Garnet Victory.

Union will meet Dartmouth tonight with a team trained and coached to first class condition.
Every man on the squad has evinced a spirit of generosity in passing the ball which has resulted in a display of team work, never before shown this season. The team is working with a smoothness and singleness of view, and the plays are working to perfection. There is a noticeable absence of individual stalling, but the team as a unit is playing a fine type of basketball.

The week's practice consisted chiefly of passwork, foul shooting and training in combination plays.
Mudge and Galbraith are showing up wonderfully well in caging the free throws; Scoby is attaining new and increased speed; and Yovits and Moynihan are in fine form. Peaslee, Goodman, and Goff have also showed up well.

Dartmouth has an excellent team this year and have been playing winning ball with consistency.
Until her recent defeat at the hands of Penn by one point, she has won six games straight.

She suffered defeat again last night at Princeton when Princeton won from her by a score of 19-12.

The Garnet players realize that they are up against a tough proposition, but they have a confidence founded on fact, which will make them do their best and play the game through from whistle to whistle. With the support of the student body and a backing at every stage of the game Union's score should be in the majority when the final whistle blows.

The game will start with the usual line-up: Scoby and Moynihan, forwards; Galbraith, center; Mudge and Yovits, guards.

Dancing will follow the game, music being furnished by Riley's five piece orchestra, of Schenectady.

NEW BASEBALL COACH EXPECTED SOON; TWIRLERS START MONDAY TO UNLIMBER

It is fairly safe to say that a baseball coach has been engaged and that he will arrive the last of this month. Those who know are mum as clams about it, but that a coach is expected before this month is up was learned yesterday afternoon. Who he is or where he is coming from it would take the ingenuity of a Sherlock Holmes to discover. But he is, and he is coming. Thus much may be safely believed. Pete Hoag, assistant manager of baseball said yesterday that general practice would begin about March 18 or 20, depending on the arrival of the new coach.

The first baseball practice of the year will be held Monday next, when the first call for pitchers and catchers will be issued. From that time on until March 18 or 20, when general practice will begin, only battery practice will be held.

The date for the opening of general practice is not definite, as it depends on the arrival of a new coach, and the close of the basketball season.

The 1917 schedule, which opens April 20th, at Columbia, is complete with the exception of the games with R. P. I., the dates and conditions of which have not as yet been agreed upon. Games with Columbia, N. Y. U., Vermont, Hamilton, Rutgers and Trinity have been scheduled, and the contracts with R. P. I. will undoubtedly be closed before next month.

At present three men are trying-out for the position of assistant manager, but this number will probably be augmented in a short time.

DRAMATIC CLUB'S SHOW WILL BE BIG EVENT

Dinner Parties Will Precede Theatre Party and Dances Will Follow.

Manager Porter of the Dramatic Club has made final arrangements for a production of "Come to Balmy Land," in Schenectady.
The Van Curler Theatre has been secured for the evening of March 16th and at that time the student body will have an opportunity to view the results of the hard work of some forty young mummors, buffoons, costumers, managers and playwrights. All indications point to an evening of particular social gaiety. Several of the fraternities are planning to give dinner parties as a prelude to the performance. Some of the houses are to hold dances afterwards and it is understood that one of the houses is to give a tea in the afternoon.

The complete cast of the production is as follows:

Edward Dale (Ned), a composer ----- George C. Rowe Frederic Steele (Fritz) a would-be-artist -----

----- Sidney W. Talbot

MACHINE GUN CORPS IS FORMED BY STUDENTS

A Maxim Gun Expected Next Week and Drill Will Start at Once.

Through the efforts of a few students led by Charles Lester '17, and R. N. Landreth, '19, a machine gun corps is being organized here and a Maxim gun has been secured. The gun has been shipped and is expected to arrive by the middle of next week. Fourteen men, most of whom are either Plattsburgh or naval cruise men, have already associated themselves in the movement.
Prof. Perrin Galpin has also signed up.

The object of the movement is to give the men in the corps the necessary practice to become non-commissioned officers in the army reserve. Lectures by an army officer will be given and drills will be held. The place for drilling has not yet been decided upon. It is hoped that space in the gymnasium may be secured for this purpose.

The Maxim gun to be used by the corps has been loaned for an indefinite period.

CHEM MEN'S MEETING.

The Chemical Society will meet Monday evening in the chemistry lecture room and Prof. Salathe will lecture on "La Voisier and His Contemporaries."

FACULTY MEMBERS DECLARE FOR WAR

In Telegram Sent to President Wilson Last Night.

TWENTY-FOUR SIGNERS

Pres. Richmond Among Those Who Say Germany is Enemy of U. S. and That a State of War Exists.

A telegram was sent to President Wilson last night signed by twenty-four members of the faculty, including President Richmond, declaring that in their opinion the time has come for official recognition of a state of war. The message further expresses the signers' support of the President and pledges support to any legislation calling for compulsory military training. The text of the telegram follows with a list of those who signed it:

"The undersigned, members of the faculty of Union College, desire to express their whole-hearted support of the President in the steps which he has already taken for safeguarding American rights.
We favor the principle of universal compulsory military service; and we pledge our support to any program of legislation looking to the accomplishment of that end. We also desire to express our opinion that Germany by repeated acts of hostility has declared herself the enemy of the United States and that the time has come for official recognition of a state of war." C. A. Richmond, President; Edward E. Hale, John Ira Bennett, Stewart A. McComber, Sidney A.
Rowland, Jr., T. K. Whipple, Olin
H. Landreth, Perrin C. Galpin, J.
N. Vedder, Grant Huntley, George Dwight Kellogg, Morton C. Stewart, Albert J. Salathe, H. G. Mc-Kean, Charles V. O. Terwilliger, Stanley P. Chase, John A. Callan, C. F. Garis, Ernest J. Berg, Morland King, Walter L. Unson, Wallace B. Kirke, Francis Fobes, Peter J. M. Clute.

It will be noticed that seven of the signers were at the Plattsburgh camp last summer. But Charlie Waldron, who is a Plattsburgh man, did not sign the message.

The telegram does not bear the names of all the members of the faculty, notably Dean Ripton, Dr.
Hoffman, Dr. Barnes. Dr. Fobes who circulated the message for signatures, said that several of the faculty withheld their names as they did not consider the wording of the message to be sufficiently strong, while others, of course, are either in favor of less drastic action on the part of the government are ardent Germanophiles.

ENLIGHTENED ACTION.

After chapel service. The students remain to hear a student who has a proposal to make. He holds a large white folder in his hand. It is a bill pending in the State Legislature, he says. Under it young men of nineteen are to receive military training — six months of it. He proposes to admonish legislators to vote for this bill. The motion is laid on the table.

Next day. Same scene. Same speaker. He says he misunderstood the bill. Another will explain it. The one reputed to understand it speaks. He says we are to send telegrams to "our two congressmen and one representative." A third student arises and says he thinks the opinion of the student body as a whole should be expressed. "Who am I to send a message to a congressman?" he asks. No one tells him.

A shriek is heard in the gallery. A Freshman is making a pacifist speech. He is jeered, faces it out until the contents of his thought tank are jumbled, then sits down.

A rising vote is taken. It is overwhelmingly affirmative. Every one present has been assured that the bill will not affect him.

Someone strikes up "The Star Spangled Banner." Singing as much of the song as they know, the students file out.

The Student Body of Union College had voted to endorse — what? Nominally, some legislative bill. One speaker spoke of it as a state bill. Another talked about Congress. The bill provided for military training. That was all the Student Body of Union College knew about it. They were in favor of that. Add a patriotic impulse and nothing more can be attributed to their action. Yet some legislator, somewhere, will be advised that they are in favor of his bill.

COME AND TRIP IT.

Before we march away to war there are a few opportunities to cultivate the arts of peace. The Interfraternity Conference has provided at least one by arranging for dancing in the gymnasium after the last three basketball games. The proceeds of these dances are devoted to the use of the Athletic Board, whose coffers are far from overflowing. The cause is worthy. You get value received. Make the sacrifice.

A SPRING SONG.

Every year when the warmer sunshine is melting the snow and ice into the ground the beauty of the grass plots of the campus is menaced by students who eschew the paths and sidewalks and take short cuts.

By trampling down the young sprouts and making mush of the moist earth unsightly spots appear in the verdure later on where the grass has been killed. Spare the tender shoots and tread not on them with your clouted shoon.

PRAISE FOR GLEEMEN.

Editor THE CONCORDIENSIS:
It was mighty satisfying to sit in the ballroom at the Hotel Plaza last evening and hear the Union College musical clubs give a concert that would have been a credit to any university in the country. The programme was remarkably well selected and varied enough to commend interest from end to end. My congratulations to every man on the club and my congratulations also to Union College in being so well represented in a musical way. Let the good work go on.

G. HERBERT DALEY,
Class '92

NON SINE LABORE.

Dear CONCORDIENSIS:

I was interested in the editorial on "Phi Beta Kappa" in your issue for February 24. A glance at the honor roll of Alpha of New York will go far to show that versatility and highest scholarship dwell together oftener than critics of Phi Beta Kappa are wont to suppose. Has anyone drawn up the list of the lads that dazzle their fellow students and then don't pan out? At any rate as a college is, in a manner, an educational institution, and as other things than scholarship have ample rewards, not named or even hinted at in the Colgate Maroon's editorial, it is well to require a pretty high average of scholarship for admission to Phi Beta Kappa. What Phi Beta Kappa would be upon another plan doth not yet appear; it certainly would be different. And, by the by, there are several things in college worth while. One of them is just pegging away, — "grinding," if you please; it takes a lot of grinding to turn out the good work in this world.

Yours very truly,
JOHN IRA BENNETT.

PERTINENT IMPERTINENCE

By Lollius.

The Syracuse Daily Orange's critic of manners has this to say about a certain prevalent practice:

"A noticeable practice has sprung up among a great number of university men, and, strangely, among some few University women,—that of wearing galoshes unbuckled. This practice has been daily growing in favor. It has become, if not the style, popular. The wearing of large ungainly flapping galoshes is one of the distinguishing marks of a college man.

Most of this is true. Two things there are in it to which we take exception. First, it is not strange that the practice is followed by the University women. The girls are quick to catch on. Secondly, the practice is the distinguishing mark of a college man. No one ever saw anyone not in college wearing his galoshes that way.

The Syracusan goes on—:

"The appearance created is crude, sloppy and undignified."

We are sick of ultra-refinement. What is crude and sloppy is comme il faut. Witness popular literature—Snappy Stories, the Parisienne, et al. As to being undignified: only Seniors are expected to be dignified and they seldom are.

"We admit that galoshes are the ideal footwear for winter and slushy spring weather, but we fail to see why they should be worn unbuckled."

Because they will stay on without buckling and it is the way they're wearing 'em—same as higher in Hawaii—yer.

"The wearer would be loathe to admit that laziness is the reason."

Certainly. That would be admitting an untruth. It's a fad.

"Buckle up, man, buckle up!" is the closing exhortation of the Syracusan. Perhaps some one will some day and thus start a season of wearing 'em that way.

The Legend of the Freshman Cap

On a memorable morning years ago Schenectady maidens were astonished to see a number of young men wearing little caps brilliantly colored with garnet and green.

They thought, perhaps, that a circus had come to town—for they could not know that the lordly sophomores of "Old Union" had ordered every freshman to wear a cap—a badge which would distinguish him from the boys of the town.

"Let us set them apart by means of a funny cap," the Sophomores had said, "and when they have acquired the college 'tongue' in manners and apparel they may lay these caps aside."

So much for fact and theory in the past.

Today the freshman cap serves only as a mark of dignity.

It is no longer necessary to "distinguish" the freshman artificially because he has not assimilated the college "atmosphere."

Today with a little taste and observation he may clothe himself with all the careful "touches" of the most fashionable senior.

College tailoring is largely responsible for this, and Hart, Schaffner & Marx are the recognized tailors of the college world.

Their Varsity Fifty-Five suits are the last word in fashion.

From collar to pants' cuff they are representative of the style thought in university life.

Be sure that you have seen H., S. & M.'s new fabrics and styles before you purchase your new Easter suit.

For they'll help you a lot in keeping up your status as a college man.

THIEVES VISIT MDLLE. BECKETTE'S BOUDOIR

Scotland Yard Sleuth's Fail to Locate Culprits in Dark Red Mystery.

On returning from rehearsal last evening, Buy Beckette, the prima donna of "Come to Balmy Land" discovered the robbery of a diamond tiara, an amethyst brooch, and a mother of pearl necklace. The police were immediately notified and several men from Scotland Yard have been placed on the case. The star had planned on wearing these jewels in the forthcoming production of the jolliest little musical comedy in the world and it is the theory of the detectives that a clever band of thieves, having learned of this display, laid their plans very cleverly, entered the Chi Psi Lodge during the absence of "Trunk," the faithful watchdog, stole into the Mlle's boudoir and filched these priceless jewels. It is not the value of the gems alone that makes the loss so colossal to the star but the memories attached to these precious stones. The tiara was a gift from King Oorander, the last of the Ulfs, while the necklace was presented her by the people of Gvshon on the occasion of her last appearance in the lands of the Zarbs. At a late hour this morning no trace had been found of the jewels.

Indignant protest was made last evening by Mlle Beckette when she learned that it was being whispered along the Rialto that the

DEBATERS ARE CHOSEN TO DEBATE HOBART

As a result of try-outs held Thursday afternoon Clyde A. Heatly, Spencer B. Eddy, Leslie Uphoff and Ignatz R. Stein will compose the 'varsity debating team which is to meet the Hobart team at Geneva on Monday, March 12. The question is that which was debated by the Adelpheans and Philomatheans at the Allison-Foote contest last Wednesday evening: "Resolved, That the United States should join in the movement to secure an International League to Enforce Peace." The Union team will maintain the negative argument.

Coach Bezdek of the University of Oregon has suggested that football captaincy should be only temporary, inasmuch as a football star does not amount to much after he is elected on account of the continuous worry of his responsibility. The Oregon gridiron czar favors the appointment of a field leader before each game.

Y. M. C. A. TAKES OVER WORK OF NIGHT SCHOOL

Closing of City Night Schools Sends Many Foreigners to Silliman Hall Classes.

The closing of the city night school withdrew an opportunity for the study of English from a great many foreigners. In order to meet this need several classes will be held in Silliman Hall, each meeting twice weekly, on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the convenience of the teachers.

Prospective teachers are requested to meet at the Hall Monday evening at 7:15.

The closing of the city night school has created a need of classes for young ladies. These have already been formed and are under the direction of the local Y. W. C. A.

The classes in the Shop Division are constantly growing, and the more advanced classes will also make an increase soon.

Irving Day, who is in charge of the work, is constantly on the lookout for new pupils and teachers, and it is through his interest and activity that such rapid progress has already been made.

The proposition should be of interest to engineering students since their work will bring them into touch with many foreigners. The classes also afford an excellent opportunity for character study and simple psychological research.

SENIORS EXPOUND

JOHN GALSWORTHY

Arthur C. K. Hallock and Wilson O. Clough, lectured on John Galsworthy before the English Club at its meeting last evening.

JUNIOR GET TOGETHER.

The third of the "Get-together's" given by the Y. M. C. A. is to be held either next week or the week after. This one will be for Juniors. Bob Faust is acting as Grand Panjandrum of these affairs and will soon announce the exact date of this one.

LOCAL ALUMNUS WILL SPEAK AT VESPERS

The Rev. Clayton J. Potter, Union '100, will be speaker at Sunday vespers. He has often spoken here in times past and is a favorite with the college men. Besides being the pastor of the local First Reformed Church, he is a member of the Advisory Board of the college association. The services will be held in Silliman Hall.

CALL FOR CONTESTANTS FOR ASST. MANAGER

George Frisbee, Grinnell and Gorham, all '19, are out for assistant manager of baseball. The managers have not yet closed the period in which further candidates may come out. The season will soon open and all those who intend to compete should give their names either to Chapman, Delta Phi, or to Hoag, Sigma Phi.

Plans are being promulgated for the formation of the National Federation of Varsity Clubs, an organization to be composed of the varsity clubs of Yale, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell, and Columbia Universities.

CATERING

Our best efforts are put forth to be it a simple dinner or elaborate banquet. All dishes are prepared according to French School of Cooking.
