UNION BUNCHES HITS AND BEATS TRINITY

Stick Work of Murray and Goff's
Pitching Features of Slow
Game.

MANY ERRORS

Fancher Leads Eighth Inning
Rally and Garnet Finds Prescott for Four Runs.

Union defeated Trinity on Alexander Field Saturday by a score of 7-2. The game, which was fairly well played in the main, was marred by numerous errors and several exhibitions of very weird work in the pinches. The batting of Murray for Trinity, who secured a home run, a three bagger, a single and a long fly in four trips to the plate, and the pitching of Goff, who allowed but one man to make first in five innings and had six strike outs to his credit, featured. Murray goes to the St. Louis Americans at the end of the college year. Bill May played for the last time this season, as he has been called by the Naval Reserve, and celebrated with three hits and two runs. Canty, who started the game for Union, was fairly effective and gives every indication of making a strong running mate for Homer with a little more training.

After Poto had been retired in the first inning Murray singled and went to third while Woolley was being eliminated, but was stranded when Collins caught Kenney's short fly.

Union started right after the game and scored once in the first. Collins went out and Moynihan singled. He was retired a moment later at second on a fielder's choice when Fancher hit to third base. He took second on May's single and scored when Poto threw over the first baseman's head on Travis' slow bouncer. May went to third and Travis to second on the play, but Miller fanned.

There was no more scoring until the third, when Trinity went into the lead. Buckley went out. Cur-

ATHLETIC BOARD ELECTS OFFICERS TOMORROW OPINION SOUGHT ON SPORT'S POLICY

The Athletic Board will hold a regular meeting tomorrow night, at which the officers of the board for next season will be chosen. The offices to be filled are those of president, vice-president, and treasurer, the secretary having been elected by the student body several weeks ago.

Professor Odpyke has received a letter from Major Palmer E. Pierce, president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, a copy of which has been sent to the athletic boards of most of the eastern colleges, announcing a meeting of the executive committee of the Association in August, at which the matter of outlining an athletic policy to be pursued by the colleges of the east in the present unsettled condition of affairs will be discussed. Major Pierce invites the boards to give to the committee whatever suggestions they may have as to the formulation of this policy. Professor Odpyke will request the opinions of the members of the board on the subject tomorrow night.

It is possible that the business of selecting a general athletic coach to take the place of Fred Dawson may be brought a trifle nearer conclusion at the meeting.

SENIORS ARE READY FOR LIFE'S BATTLE

Most of Graduating Class to Enter Upon Occupations Immediately.

Most of the graduating class are ready to step into occupations for the coming year immediately after commencement, is the fact developed by a recent canvass of the members of the class by THE CONCORDIENSIS, although some have not yet made up their minds as to just what field they will enter. Of the occupations selected, the U. S. Engineering Corps is the favorite, with G. E. tests running a close second. It is to be remembered that many of the class are now at the Madison Barracks receiving training in military science, which is to be their vocation at last for the time being.

The following is a result of the canvass:

Mosten, with G. E. Test.
Rogers, with G. E. Test.
Imrie, with N. Y. Telephone Co., in New York.

STUDENT BODY AMENDS ITS CONSTITUTION

Senior President to Be Councilman.

VOTE UNANIMOUS

May Be Necessary for Students to Pick Five Councilmen
Next Fall.

At a meeting held in the chapel this noon the student body decided, without a dissenting vote, to amend the student body constitution to provide for two contingencies which may arise next all with respect to the personnel of the Terrace Council, and to confirm a precedent which has heretofore been unauthorized by the constitution.

In previous years a custom has been inaugurated by which the president of the Senior class becomes a member in full standing of the Terrace Council. This custom, which was unsupported by any provision of the student constitution, was enacted into law his noon by being added to the organic law of the body as an amendment.

The contingency of the man who is chosen president of the Senior class being previously a member of the Terrace Council by having been tapped in the Spring, was also provided for by the amendment, by virtue of which amendment three men instead of two are to be elected by the student body in the Fall in the event that such condition prevails. Lastly the amendment makes provision for the popular choice of successors to all previously tapped members who fail to return to college.

At present there are three of the newly chosen Terrace Councilmen at the Madison Barracks training camp: James B. Mudge, Hunter A. Towne and W. Gibson Carey, Jr. Should these men be reverted by their military duties from returning to college next all, the student body will have to elect five new members instead of two as usual. Should any one of the new Council be chosen president of the Senior Class, the student body will choose three Terrace Council members, provided that the men at Madison come back to Union next September.

ALL STUDENTS WILL PAY FOR CONCORDY

Motion Unanimously Passed
Making Subscriptions Compulsory.

In college meeting this noon a notion was unanimously passed making subscriptions to THE CONCORDIENSIS compulsory. This means that next fall each student when he registers will pay $2.50 or the paper, the same as he pays a dramatic tax and an athletic tax.

W. J. Kennedy, Business Manager of THE CONCORDIENSIS, in explaining the necessity for such action called attention to the fact that but fifty-two per cent of the students subscribe to THE CONCORDIENSIS and that a compulsory subscription basis is the only equitable way of conducting a college newspaper and a way which insures financial success.

The Senior members of the Concordy Board are to be exempted from paying for their subscription.

* This is the last issue of *
* THE CONCORDIENSIS until *

Between seventy-five and eighty students, members of the college battalion, will participate in the Memorial Day parade to be held in Schenectady. All those furnishing out for this event are to wear the regulation black tie.

A CHANCE FOR A CHANTYMAN.

Almost every poet worth his salt has sung of the sea, all the way from John Masfield, who has sailed before the mast, to Barry Cornwall, who sang with apparent relish of "The sea! the sea! the open sea!" and yet was the veriest landlubber and never dared venture off shore. The odor of ocean has ever had a potent fascination both for poets and their readers and though the Jolly Roger no longer flies from the mizzen of galleons ploughing the Spanish Main nor groaning black men rot in slavers coming up from the southern seas, yet the poetical charm has not all left sea-faring life. Trade unionism has invaded the fo'c'sle, yet somewhere perhaps there are "mutines in the bilboes" and scuppers that run blood, where,

"The mate was fixed by the bos'n's spike,

The bos'n brained with a marlin-spike,

And cooky's throat was marked belike,

It has been gripped

By fingers ten,

And there they lay

All good dead men."

Though few sheets are shaken to the wind and tops'l, mains'l, mizzen and jib all are reefed and twin-screws disturb the fishes and the ghosts of good sailor men who sleep amid starfish and weeds, and the wreckage of ocean, "ten fathom's deep on the road to hell," yet winds are still haughty and the sea perilous. Man floats a steel-bound palace and an ice-berg shatters it as one cracks an egg shell. The uncertainty and the mystery of the trackless water remain, and the exhilaration of flying spume and caracoling hulls remains to rouse the breast.

And now that Morris Gilbert has put to sea may we not expect that he may devise some new chantys to lighten the seaman's life and delight people who like to read about the sea, yet perhaps never smelled brine.

THE PAST AND PRESENT

Keep abreast with the times. We are not living in the stage-coach decade, at which time the mentioning of flying machines would have been taken as an idle jest. In the present century you wouldn't think of traveling as one did in by-gone days. Neither would you of having your shoes repaired by the old style hand method way, if you knew the superiority in our up-to-date machine way of repairing.

tis was hit by the pitcher, but was caught asleep off first when Galbraith worked the hidden ball on him. Poto singled and was safe on his attempted steal when Fancher dropped Witner's perfect throw. At this point Murray secured the second home run ever made on Alexander Field when he drove one of Cantey's slow balls through the fence in center field, scoring Poto ahead of him. Woolley went out, Collins to Galbraith.

Union evened things in the 6th. After Moynihan and Fancher had been thrown out at first May singled, stole second and scored on an error by Murray on Sutton's drive. Peaselee went out, Feldman to Kenney.

Union scored again the seventh when, with one down, Witner doubled along the third base line and scored a moment later when Goff won his own game with another double in the same place. Collins sacrificed him to third, but Moynihan went out, Feldman to Kenney.

The eighth was Union's big inning. Fancher opened with a single and took third on May's hit. He scored when Sutton hit safely, and May went to third. Sutton stole second. May scored on an error by Kenney, while Sutton went to third. He stole home on a play in which Prescott stopped Galbraith's little tap but failed to throw to a base. Witner singled, filling the bases. Goff flew out to the pitcher. Collins was safe on a fielder's choice, when Galbraith went out Reddish to Poto. Moynihan went out by the Feldman-Kenney route.

Trinity failed to get a man to first in her half of the ninth, giving Union the game 7-2.

"To the merchant," says Mr. Wilson in his eloquent proclamation calling for a great civilization army to enlist in the service of the Nation, "let me suggest this motto:"

"Small profits and quick service."

No one has ever given briefer or happier phrasing than this to the fundamental purpose of the ready-for-service principle in clothes, as we conceive and practice it here.

For every ounce of our energy—every ounce of energy of such clothes-making institutions as A. B. Kirschbaum Co. is devoted singly to the enterprise of giving our fellow citizens

(1) All wool fabrics, 100 per cent and no compromise.

(2) Tailoring and trimmings which belong with all-wool.

(3) Lasting qualities of service and satisfaction.

And further to give all this with the greatest possible economy of time, of patience and of money.

In such a service, Mr. President, there never will be need to conscript this store. We've been in that service as regulars ever since we began selling clothing.
