BASEBALL HOODOO LEAVES FOR TROY

Finale of Ten-Inning Game Uncertain Till End.

SCORE 7-6

Hochuli's Three-Bagger and Mallery's Single Produce the Deciding Tally.

As R. P. I. fared in football and basketball against the Garnet this year, so she met her fate in baseball, being defeated by one point in a ten-inning game. With Joe Brucker in the box, Union played better ball than she has played this season and came through with the timely hits which have been lacking in other contests. In the seventh inning the Trojans tied the score and so it remained until the tenth when Hochuli's three-bagger, was stretched to a run by Mallery's hit to first.

R. P. I. opened the scoring in the second, but the Garnet soon passed her rival with two runs in the third and four in the fifth. It looked as though Union had things pretty well sewed up when Brucker began to get wild and let the visitors come through with three runs on one hit. Although Laszkowski, who relieved Brucker in the seventh, was hit hard for a time, he allowed only two runs and from then on was master of the situation.

Joe Brucker in pitching his first game for the Garnet played against adverse circumstances. A sore arm has prevented his practicing all season and consequently his control was lacking. He showed, however, a fine assortment of curves and a cool head. Several times he had the bases full and crawled out of some bad holes, allowing the visitors only four runs in the six innings in which he played. If the condition of his arm permits some hard practice this week and enables him to get control of the ball, Union's pitching staff will be the least of her troubles in baseball.

All departments of the team showed improvement. The hitting average was much better, and the bingles came when they were needed. Hanley and Wittner both found the ball, the former leading the team with three hits. Capt. Peaslee at short was much improved and played a strong game throughout. The outfielding was also good and there was not the lack of headwork which has put the damper

UNIVERSITY UNION IN PARIS DESCRIBED

College's Men's Club Is Well Represented.

QUARTERED IN HOTEL.

Comfortable and Cheap Lodging Provided for Men on War Duty.

The letters from the front which have been published from time to time in THE CONCORDIENSIS have contained so many references to a college mens' club in Paris that a recently-received report, describing the organization will be of interest.

Several hundred men, representing more than thirty American universities and colleges, gathered at the Royal Palace Hotel in Paris on Oct. 20 last to celebrate the opening there of the American University Union. Many notable persons, including representatives of General Pershing, the Allied governments, and war relief organizations, such as the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A., were present, and the work of the union as an organization, designed to meet the needs of the thousands of American university and college men who are or will be in Europe for military or other service in the cause of the Allies, was officially begun under encouraging circumstances.

The specific purposes of the American University Union in Europe, as stated in its constitution, are:

"To provide at moderate cost a home with the privileges of a simple club for American college men and their friends passing through Paris or on furlough; the privileges to include information bureau, writing and newspaper room, library, dining room, bedrooms, baths, social features, opportunities for physical recreation, entertainments, medical advice, etc."

"To provide a headquarters for the various bureaus already established or to be established in France by representative American universities, colleges and technical schools."

To co-operate with these bureaus when established, and in their absence to aid institutions, parents or friends in obtaining information about college men in all forms of war service, reporting on casualties, visiting the sick and wounded, giving advice, serving as a means of communication with them, etc."

The union rented the Royal Palace Hotel, which is centrally located on the Place due Theatre Francais, and has accommodations for more than 100 men in 80 rooms, in addition to space that can be devoted to social purposes. Arrangements by which an overflow of guests could be cared for were made with a nearby hotel, and the use of tennis courts and other athletic facilities was obtained. Prices as low as 15 francs a day for the accommodation

DR. HALE TO ADDRESS CLASSICAL CLUB TUESDAY.

There will be a meeting of the Classical Club tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in Professor Bennett's lecture-room. Dr. Hale will lecture on the "Classical Element in Pope." The hour of the meeting has been arranged so as not to interfere with the Hoernle lecture, at eight o'clock, and it is requested that all members be prompt. There will be one more meeting of the club this season, on May 21, when Dr. J. L. March will read a paper.

TENNIS TEAM HELPS BREAK LOSING SPELL

Individual Players Show Up Well in Each of the Sets.

The epidemic of losing broke out in the Trojan tennis team as well as in the baseballers and the racquet men carried home a 4-2 defeat with them. R. P. I. tied in the doubles, but the Garnet's superiority in the singles carried the day.

Union's players were Capt. Wadsworth, Wilber, Lefkowitz, Hawkes and Rosenthal. Wilber was a bit nervous at the start and opened the game hurriedly, losing his first set. In the rest of the contests, however, he quieted down and played an excellent game. His opponent, Kwan, defeated "Buck" Beckett of last year's team.

Wadsworth also played a consistent game throughout. In the third set he lost his hold for a moment but soon came back and was master of the situation throughout. Wadsworth's opponent also triumphed last year against Klapp.

Lefkowitz and Hawkes both played a hard, steady game in the singles. Lefty's man had a left-handed serve which was difficult to overcome, but he was a bit wild at times. Here Lefkowitz, who kept his head, had the advantage and pulled down the victory. Hawkes had his man all the way, winning the first two sets of the singles 6-2.

The Scores.

Singles—

Capt. Wadsworth, 3-6; 6-3; 6-2.
Wilber, 2 6; 6-3; 6-2.
Hawkes, 6-2; 6-2.
Lefkowitz, 6-2; 2-6; 6-2.

Doubles—

Rosenthal and Lefkowitz, 3-6 4-6.
Capt. Wadsworth and Wilber, 6-4; 7-5.

PLANNING RECEPTION

Tentative Program for an Exhibition Drill Already Made. Nine More Drills.

It was announced at drill last Friday that General Peyton C. March, chief of staff of the U. S. Army, and Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, will be present at the commencement exercises on June 10th.

The battalion, which will be inspected by Major-General March, will give an exhibition drill. Although plans for the drill have not been definitely formulated as yet, the following tentative program is contemplated:

Marching with the colors; marching in campaign; the location of camp reported by Quartermaster; making camp and cooking by squad fires; guard mount; outpost alarm; forced march; occupation of trench; the counter-attack and pursuit; the attack and holding of a guarded bridge.

There remains only nine more drills, and these will be devoted to perfecting the Battalion in practical work, for the exhibition drill. Needless to say, the task is very great, and every member of the battalion must make a special endeavor to visualize and understand thoroughly the work as a whole.

Last Friday the Battalion was instructed in open order drill. The companies marched out along Lenox Road, where they simulated pitching tents. The Battalion was then sent forward against "the enemy." The advance was made in platoon rushes, the battalion taking up a new line along Rosa Road. The work of the battalion in open order drill is improving rapidly, and greatest interest is being taken in the work as it becomes more complex.

Major-General March is of special interest to the college because he is a brother of Prof. John L. March, adjunct professor of modern languages at Union. He is a graduate of Lafayette College and West Point Military Academy. While at Lafayette he was made a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and was later awarded the degree of A. M. General March was recalled to the U. S. from France, where he was with the American expeditionary force at the time he was appointed chief of staff, several months ago.

The appointment of Robert T. Lansing, Secretary of State, as honorary chancellor has previously been made. This appointment, in addition to the guests already mentioned, will bring to Union three of the highest government officials as visitors at the coming commencement.

A Danger.

The value of a college to those most concerned varies directly with the spirit of the college,—the depth of sentiment that exists between the students and what is more or less of an abstraction, the institution. College spirit is that something which makes a man throw himself into any movement, any activities that tend to widen the sphere of influence of his Alma Mater, or that may redound to her credit. A great deal has been spoken and written about college spirit, because it has been recognized that without this student-college feeling, an institution cannot long endure or prosper. And that is why we are again brining this subject to the light, not with any alarmist motives, but from a reluctant conviction of its applicability to Union.

There has been for several months, in fact, almost a year, a decided and dangerous slump in the old traditional Union spirit, in that feeling of loyalty and enthusiasm for everything connected with the college that is an essential to its well-being. This laxness of sentiment has manifested itself in all the various branches of extra-curriculum activities, in athletics, as well as journalistic and literary circles. Managers of baseball, of track, and of tennis, keep calling for candidates to come out and help insure the success of Union, or at least be present at all contests and support the teams with the real Union cheering. Heads of the various student clubs announce meetings and urge all the members to attend. Executives of all student interests, in fact, are fighting to keep the old spirit alive, to uphold Union activities as they have been upheld in times past. And the result? It is almost like carrying water in a willow basket.

What is the cause of this lamentable lack of real enthusiasm. Can we deny that such a lack exists? Shall we refuse to meet the facts as they are? We may say that the war is exerting this influence on the college, and that after the coming of peace things will return to normal. There is, indeed, a measure of truth in this assertion, but it is not the whole truth. In spite of six hours a week of military drill, in spite of this atmosphere of war, it is still possible to be present at college games, to cheer the players till the welkin rings, and to attend all club meetings. We are attending classes with much the usual regularity; can we not likewise attend to our activities, which are very nearly as important! And as for things returning to normal. The effect of this long period of slump in spirit must and will inevitably be felt in future years, after this war is over. A man who has gone through a long period of idleness and inaction can never or at least not for some time, be the same man that he would have been had he always remained active.

We must realize conditions and set about finding the remedy for them immediately. The longer the delay, the harder the cure. Now is the time to get busy and show ourselves true sons of old Union.

FRATERNITY STEWARDS HELP IN FOOD SURVEY

Fraternity houses on the Union campus are included in the proposal emanating from the United States Department of Agriculture for a national dietary survey, and the stewards of the various houses have been furnished with blanks on which food inventories and consumption records are to be entered. With the blanks is enclosed a request from the department for co-operation in order to determine the most rational course to pursue in the utilization of the food supply of the country. The request says that knowledge regarding the food habits and needs of the different classes of the population is of the utmost necessity in determining this course. As a few of the thousands or more co-operating investigators, the various stewards are asked to obtain for the use of the department facts as to kinds, amounts and costs of food used and the kinds and weights of food waste in one group for one week. In doing this, the request says, the stewards will be rendering a real patriotic service of great importance.

Committee on Public Information
Releases War Information
Pamphlet to American Public.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"Between a worthy war patriotism and a virile peace patriotism, there is no essential difference." These words of Assistant Secretary of Labor, Louis F. Post, are put at the head of the latest publication of the Committee on Public Information, entitled "The War for Peace," issued recently. With these are joined the statement of Dr. David Starr Jordan that, "Now that we are in the war, the shortest way out is forward."

The compiler of the publication is Arthur D. Call, editor of "The Peace Advocate," and secretary of the American Peace Society, the oldest peace organization in the United States. The publication may be obtained free by writing to the Committee at 8 Jackson Place, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Call's own position is shown by his statement that, "The supreme duty of every man, woman, and child in America, today, is, avoiding panics and hatred of persons, to remember the ghastly offences of a might-worshipping aggressor, and bend every possible effort to win and end this war."

In thirteen sections from as many separate societies or group are set forth utterances of American friends of peace who support our Government in its righteous war. "He who proposes peace now either does not see the stake for which the Allies are fighting or wishes the German military autocracy still to control the destinies of all of us as to peace or war." This is from an address by ex-President William H. Taft, now president of the League to Enforce Peace. "No one should be permitted to cloak attacks upon his Government or aid to the enemy under the claim that he is exercising freedom of speech. Unity throughout the Nation is imperatively necessary during the war—dissent

TWENTY R. O. T. C. MEN APPLY FOR JUNE CAMP

Men Under Age and Ineligible for Commissions Qualified.

In addition to the five men who will be sent from the Union R. O. T. C. to the Fourth Reserve Officers' Camp on May 15th, about twenty will attend the so-called June Camp for younger R. O. T. C. members, according to Col. Goldman. Inasmuch as most of the men who attend the one-month camp will be under age and hence ineligible for commissions, no commissions will be granted to men finishing the course, but the government will pay for their maintenance while in camp. Transportation to the amount of three and one-half cents per mile will be furnished them to and from the camp, and they will be furnished with food and probably uniforms. The following undergraduates at Union have applied for admission to the camp and it is probable that the War Department will send many of them to the division headquarters where they will be given the one month's course of training: C. B. Jansen, K. O. Mott-Smith, S. B. Joseph, F. R. McAllester, D. C. Van Vranken, H. G. McGee, A. Stewart, R. V. I. Kathan, H. G. Frisbee, J. W. Hoag, G. E. M. King, J. W. Reynolds, J. J. Rooney, R. P. McClellan, G. P. James, E. O. Kennedy, P. A. Dohm, J. R. Gingold, R. E. Van Ness, J. Davidson, F. DeP. Townsend.

The college battalion will hold nine more drills this season, Col. Goldman said this morning.

would be disastrous, we must win—and division among us would but prolong the war and increase its cost." So writes William Jennings Bryan, former Secretary of State. Among other well known individuals and organizations quoted in this publication are Samuel Gompers, Theodore Marburg, Clarence Darrow, Herbert Hoover, the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, the World Peace Foundation, the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, and the American Branch of the World Alliance for Promoting International Friendship through the Churches.

SENIOR CLASS BANQUET IS A DECIDED SUCCESS

Almost All Members Present—
Vosburgh Succeeds Stein as Pipe Orator.

The Senior class dined at the Mohawk last Saturday night. About 35 members of the graduating class were present, which is a good representation, considering that less than 40 are still at college. At the same time Beverly Vosburgh of Johnstown was elected pipe orator to succeed Ignatz Stein of Schenectady, who will leave on May 15th for the Fourth Reserve Officers' Training Camp. Vosburgh is a member of Delta Phi fraternity, the Classical Club and the Adelpic Debating Society.

Walter Hochuli of Schenectady president of the outgoing class, acted as toastmaster. He made many witty remarks in introducing the speakers. "Monte" Bascom and "Mat" Poersch both delivered very classical orations and, as usual, scored great success with their invocations to Father Zeus and life-giving Dionysius. Frank Peaslee and "Duke" Hay spoke on athletics and both promised to work faithfully to secure further success for Union in these lines. "Sevie" Sevits scored a decided success with a few of his jocular stories.

The committee in charge consisted of Harold Dunn, chairman; Cecil Underwood and Traver McKenna. It was largely due to their efforts that the banquet was such a decided success both in the culinary art and in the success of the toasts.

Last Saturday, at about half-past one, a number of hard-fought wrestling matches, the first of a series, took place in the gymnasium, at which Freshman aspirants, classified in weights according to the rules recently laid down by the Terrace Council, contended for places on the Freshman wrestling team for the Moving-Up Day battle with the Sophs. At this stage of the sifting process, Myers and Gregory are running close for the 160-pound and over, and Wemple and Hulett are the two left in the 130-140 pound class. Representatives for the remaining classes at the present time are as follows: Bartlett, 155-162 lbs.; Notman, 147-155 lbs.; Dohm, 120-130 lbs., and Mancuso, 120 and below. These men are ready to defend their titles and will meet any challengers of their respective classes. The next contest will probably be held some time this week, at which a large number of those eager to defend the fair name of '21 are expected to be present.

The game opened without score in the first inning. Two bases on balls were prevented from scoring by a play to the plate. In the second Mackey was passed and Kuhnert's double put him across the plate. Luby also took his base on balls but Brucker pulled out without further scoring.

In the third Union got her first contact with the horsehide. Wittner doubled and took third of Vaughn's bad throw to second. Jamieson followed with another double, scoring Wittner, and came across himself on Fancher's sacrifice fly.

Union took four more in the fifth inning and the end seemed inevitable. Joe Brucker's hard one to shortstop was a bit too hard for Shankey to handle and the batsman got through. Jamieson was hit but Fancher flied out. Then came Peaslee's and Hanley's hits which brought three runs across the plate, and Hochuli's brought in Hanley.

Just at this point, however, Joe Brucker took a wild streak. Walsh's hit, coupled with three bases on balls, two passed balls and a wild throw, left the visitors in pretty good shape. Hughes ran for Brucker in this inning and Laskowski opened the seventh as twirler.

He was a little while in getting down to business. Meanwhile, Holden hit and took second on the pitcher's wild throw in trying to catch him off first. Shankey came next and scored Holden, took second on a passed ball and scored the tying run when Mallery let Vaughn's hit get through.

Neither side scored again until the tenth. Both pitchers worked hard to fan the batsmen. Kuhnert still stuck to the mound for the visitors. Though he weakened at some critical times, he totalled eleven strike-outs for the visitors. In the tenth, with one out, Hochuli sent out a three-bagger and a moment later was brought in by Mallery.

Tufts College Medical and Dental Schools

The Tufts College Medical and Dental School are co-educational, and provide women with an opportunity for entering vocations of great possibilities.

The requirements for entering the Medical School is that the candidate shall have a diploma from an accredited high school and two years' of medical preparatory work covering Chemistry, Biology, Physics, English and either French or German.

Tufts College Dental School admits graduates of accredited high schools on presentation of their diploma and transcript of record covering fifteen units. Many successful women practitioners are among its graduates.

Tufts College has announced that it will give a summer course in Chemistry, Biology and Physics, so that college men who lack these subjects may enter the Medical School in September, 1918.

The Tufts College Medical and Dental Schools already have several hundred graduates holding commissions either in the Army or Navy.

of American college men and their friends were established.

To be maintained in co-operation with the headquarters in Paris, a London branch of the union was opened with rooms in the building of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company of New York at 16 Pall Mall East, S. W. I. This branch will attempt to meet the needs of American university men in England.

Already about fifty American universities, colleges and technical schools have become members of the union, and invitations have been sent out recently to 100 other institutions, giving them an opportunity to join. Two of the leading American fraternities have also entered the union, and it is expected that others will follow. Many of the member institutions have established bureaus at the union headquarters.

The union has been financed by the dues of its members and rent money. Dwight W. Morrow of Amherst College is at the head of a Finance Committee attempting to raise $30,000 in addition so that the work of the union may be developed to its fullest capacity.
