BASKETBALL SQUAD LEAVES FRIDAY A. M.

Play Crescent A. C. in Brooklyn,
Friday Evening and Wesleyan
at Middletown, Saturday Evening.

NEW SQUAD

Jones and Hathaway Are Ineligible,
While Mudge and Yovits
Again Appear.

At 10:40 Friday morning the following eight men will leave for New York City: Hal Scoy, capt.; Galbraith, Jimmy Mudge, Frank Moynihan, Yovits, Goodman, Peaslee and Hanley. While in the city they will stop at the Cumberland Hotel, and play the Crescent A. C. at the Second Regiment Armory in Brooklyn, Friday night. They leave Saturday morning for Middletown, where the Garnet will meet Wesleyan, Saturday evening.

The basketball situation became very tense, when both Jones and Hathaway, two brilliant players, became ineligible as a result of the mid-year examinations. Their loss has been a source of regret, though Mudge and Yovits have been reinstated. "Jimmy" has fully recovered from the injuries received last fall in football, and is working out in splendid form. Yovits again brought up his scholarship, and his presence will materially strengthen the team.

Coach Dawson has been pushing the team to the limit in practice this week, and his efforts to eliminate individual playing to encourage team work, have been very successful with the new squad position, while Galbraith and Moynihan are playing the same consistent game. Yovits is developing in fine style, while Mudge and Galbraith are becoming adept at foul shooting. The probable line-up for the Crescent A. C. game is Yovits and Moynihan, forwards; Galbraith, center; with Scoy and Mudge playing guards. Judging from the week's practise, it is expected that the Garnet will recover from the mid-season slump, and amply retrieve some of the defeats sustained earlier this year. Coach Dawson and assistant-manager Towne will accompany the squad on the trip.

PREXY OFFERS SERVICES OF COLLEGE TO GOVERNMENT IN CASE OF WAR

At the first chapel service of the second semester, President Charles A. Richmond spoke to the students of the part the college is to take in the event of war between the United States and Germany. He announced that he had placed the resources of the college at the disposal of the war and navy departments, asking in what directions its efforts might be most useful to the government. Replies were received from Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, and Major-General Leonard A. Wood, expressing things for Dr. Richmond's offer.

Following is the address made in chapel by Dr. Richmond:

"In the present strained relations with Germany it is right that we should have some definite policy in view for this college. It would be unwise to assume that war is to break out between the United States and Germany, but it would be just as unwise to assume that there would be no war. The situation is certainly serious enough to warrant some action on the part of the young men in our colleges. I need not remind any Union College man that this institution is as follows:

ERNEST SCHELLING DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

Displays Brilliant Technique in Rendition of Varied Program.

Ernest Schelling appeared in the college chapel Wednesday evening and delighted a large and enthusiastic audience. He absolutely charmed them—so much so that at the close of the program his listeners refused to leave their seats until he had played three encores. The program was divided into three parts, though it seemed that Chopin was the favorite of the pianist, for while one section of the program was devoted exclusively to that composed Mr. Schelling played him very much for encores. The Spanish compositions were full of color, and adequately demonstrated the skill of Mr. Schelling.

It seemed that he could make new themes from well-known pieces, for at the opening he sat down and played the "Star Spangled Banner" just as it was written, but with a feeling that gave a different conception of the song. Then the program started, which did full justice to Mr. Schelling's wonderful technique. The program follows:

- 1 Fantasy Op. 17 ---- Schumann
(In three movements.)
Variations, A Minor ----
----- Paderewski
- 2 Ncturne, F sharp ---- Chopin
Etude, A flat ---- Chopin
Valse, C sharp minor ---- Chopin
Ballade, Op. 47 ---- Chopin
- 3 Two Spanish Dances ---- Granados
Spanish Military March ----
----- Granados
Serenade ---- Schubert-Liszt
Rhapsodie No. X ---- Liszt

Mr. Schelling's appearance was the second in a course of entertainments, the last of which will occur Tuesday evening, March 6th, when the Margulies trio appear in the college chapel.

MUSICAL CLUBS TO AP- PEAR AT THE PLAZA

Manager Jones Arranging for Two Other Concerts On Trip.

Through the co-operation of many prominent New York alumni, Manager E. V. Jones has succeeded in scheduling a concert for the Union College Musical Clubs to be given in the ballroom of the Plaza in that city on the evening of Friday, February 23. The alumni committee under whose auspices the concert will be given is as follows:

Mr. Silas B. Brownell, '51; Rev. George Alexander, '66; Dr. Alexander Duane, '78; Mr. Courtland V. Anable, '81; Mr. Edward I. Devlin, '81; Mr. Cornelius E. Franklin, '83; Mr. George F. Allison, '84; Dr. Edgar S. Barney, '84; Mr. Frank Bailey, '85; Mr. C. Herbert Daley, '92; Mr. George T. Hughes, '93; Mr. William Allen, '95; Mr. William J. Smith, '99; Mr. Douglas W. Paige, '00; Mr. Wagner Van Vlack, '00; Mr. Stephen C. Fiero, '04; Mr. Eric T. King, '05; Mr. Ernest B. Osbourne, '07; Mr. Mason W. Wadsworth, '07; Mr. C. Lawrence Mead, '09; Mr. Rorace K. Hutchins, '10; Mr. Robert P. Patterson, '12; Mr. Kenneth E. Walser, '12; Mr. Robert Duane, '15.

The spirit of these alumni in making the concert possible is certainly very commendable, for it will be of a nature hitherto unattempted, and it will no doubt do much to raise the standard of opinion regarding old Union in New York. Manager Jones is making arrangements for another concert which will be given on that trip, but as yet the details have not been made public.

The editor wishes to correct the statement appearing in a previous issue with regard to the caterer at the Prom, to the effect that Nuttall served the supper, instead of Cirker.

DR. ANGELL GIVES TWO MORE LECTURES

French Neurologists and Experimentalists From Bases of Talks in College Chapel.

WELL RECEIVED

But Two More Lectures in Ichaod
Spencer Course This Year.

Dr. Angell appeared in the college chapel Monday and Tuesday evenings in the third and fourth lectures of the Ichaod Spencer Course. It is regretted that there are but two more lectures, for Dr. Angell's manner in speaking and his ability to make his audience interested in the subject, are giving them the same enthusiasm that they had when his first lecture course was given here a number of years ago.

Monday night he discussed the "French Neurologists," while Tuesday night the subject presented was the "French Experimentalists." Charcot's work was the first discussed on Monday night reference being made to many experiments in hypnotism that he had made in his hospital. His claim that many mechanical acts induced different stages of hypnotism. In addition to this he demonstrated important facts concerning phasia, the location of the brain centers, which contract memory of words by sight, hearing, reading and speaking. This theory of Charcot's he said was proven false by Bernheim, who claimed that hypnosis was controlled by suggestion. Bernheim also proved that hypnosis was not only limited to weak and nervous people, but that almost 95 per cent of people of the most healthy sort were subject to it. He said that the small per cent of people who did not come under the influence of hypnotism were those who were so interested in what was going on that they did not allow themselves to answer the suggestion.

The study of hysteria by Janet was also outlined of Dr. Angell. He said that many new facts had been added to the study of disease which was an exaggeration of certain phenomena in normal life. To illustrate this theory the lecturer used a chart picture as of a target letting the central point be that of the central interest and surrounding the various phases of interest as they decreased or increased. In hysteria the patient is conscious of only the center of interest. The results produce such results as paralysis and so forth which he claimed is merely an exaggeration.

WE ARE CRITICISED

(From the Washington Daily)

Some smug Eastern newspaper has taken upon itself the task of berating the college newspapers of the country. The Reed College Quest reprints the editorial, but from its kindness of heart does not divulge the name of the newspaper that played the critic.

"We realize that behind each of these typographically erring sheets there stands a group of extremely serious men who lower their grades and lose their meals and sleep over these very neglected issues," the critic says, in way of comment, and then he asks himself what are the results. Of course, he is able to answer his own query or he would not have asked, and he goes on glibly: "A little practice which a week's employment on a country daily would equal; a little fame among associates whose approbation is not worth 10 cents at best; a paper which a very few papers read and fewer appreciate, and besides this, a vast deal of unpaid labor, of trying eye strain, of expense in time and money."

All of which is very clever and quite untrue. College newspapers are on the whole better edited, better written and of a neater appearance than the small town daily, which boasts the same circulation. As for the poor grades, overstrained eyes, loss of sleep and neglected meals, these are only the result of an ill-balanced schedule and are the exception rather than the rule. Of course, his statement that a week's experience on a small daily would yield one as much as three "years" on a college publication is ridiculous on the face of it.

College newspapers are no longer an experiment. They are a real agent in the unifying of the conglomerate forces that make up the American university; they serve to instill college spirit in the incoming generations; they are an advertisement of the college they represent. They are here to stay, despite the protests of this self-satisfied Eastern journal.

THE RELIEF FUND

The relief work of the Student Camps goes on unhindered by the breaking of diplomatic relations with Germany.

Please don't forget to pay up your subscription as soon as possible. Your pledge may actually save the life of one of those students.

Remember, the need is becoming more acute every day.

Will you help the committee by taking it upon yourself to bring your contribution to Silliman Hall or giving it to Wally Girling?

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Sunday's Vesper Service will be address by Prof. McKean.

Hugh Williams, head of the Christian Education Department is busy starting Mission Study Classes. There will be three courses of the work, the first to be "General World Conditions" taking up present day affairs in Europe, and dealing with current topics, the second to be "Problems in South America," and the third to be "North American Problems," which we are facing at the present time. It is planned to start the classes next week.

DR. HALE LECTURES TO CLASSICAL CLUB

Compares Styles of Landar Shakespeare, Lowell and Modern Poets.

The members of the Classical Club listened to a most unusual lecture by Dr. Hale Tuesday evening on the "Classical Spirit in the Poems of Walter Savage Landar." Dr. Hale did not attempt to define just what he meant by "Classical spirit," but rather left it to his audience to formulate a definition from the points which his paper suggested. In his discussion of the subject he cleverly compared and contrasted the style of Landar with that of Shakespeare, Lowell, and some other modern poets in a manner which was enthusiastically received by the club.

Robert C. Folwell, U. of Pennsylvania's former football coach has not been re-engaged and is no longer affiliated with the University.

The Faculty of Harvard University has approved the program of training for reserve officers and it will go into effect immediately. The present plans provide for nine hours of drill and theoretical work a week to be increased to 20 hours in case of war or a call for troops. This is to be supplemented by intensive training in camp from June 23d to September 1st.

UNION STANDS READY TO HELP

tution has always held a high reputation for patriotism. And I need not assert that this high reputation will be upheld by the present generation of Union College men. But let me suggest to you that the most ardent patriotism is not to be confused with headlong and ill-considered action. If a call comes to us we must see that our resources are used to utmost advantage to our country. This would not be done by hasty enlistment in several units. It seems to me that we should wait until we are instructed by those who know as to how our country can use us to best advantage. Let us hold ourselves together here as a body of determined patriotic men, prepared to meet what ever emergency that may come. I can think of no words that could better express the right attitude for us to hold than the words of Lincoln just before the outbreak of the Civil War.

"I know there is a God and that he hates injustice and slavery. I can see a storm coming and I know God's hand is in it. If he has a place and a work for me, and I think he has, I believe I am ready."

"These words express exactly what is, or at least, what should be the mind of every Union College student. Let us all be loyal to Union, to our country, and the right."

Following is a copy of the letters which were sent to the officials at Washington:

"February 10, 1917.

"My dear Secretary Daniels:

"It is hardly necessary to assure you that Union College stands ready to answer any call for national service. I am writing to ask if there is any suggestion you have to make. We do not wish to take any premature action or to waste our energies in inefficient and aimless military activity. It occurs to me that there may be some courses in the application of engineering, chemistry and electricity to military service which we might well be qualified to offer. At all events I should be happy to have you tell us how we can be of the most use.

"Faithfully yours,

(Signed)

"Charles A. Richmond."

Following are replies received by President Richmond from Major-General Wood and from Secretary Baker in response to his offer:

"War Department,

"Washington,

"February 12, 1917.

"My dear Mr. President:

"I have your very gracious note of February 10 and beg leave to express my hearty appreciation of the generous spirit in which it is written. And yet, it is impossible to forecast the extent to which we shall be obliged to go in the present crisis, but it does strengthen our hands to know that we can count confidently upon the great institutions of technical learning for full support. I shall keep you letter where I can lay my hands upon it and notify you if some definite line of activity presents itself for recommendation to you.

"Cordially yours,

(Signed)

WILLIAMS WINS IN SLOW CONTEST

Perhaps the only thing to mar the success of Junior Week was the defeat of the Garnet by Williams, after a lagging game in the gymnasium Saturday night. Only at one time was the local quintet up to form, and that was during the last few minutes of play. At that time the score was 28-20 in Williams' favor, when Union suddenly broke loose, and rung up six points in less than a minute. The defeat might have been a victory for Union, had not time been called, which gave the teams a short breathing spell, allowing the Purple to assemble its momentarily scattered cohorts, and effectively stopping the run. The score was 28-26 when the final whistle blew.

The superior pass work of Williams was mainly responsible for their victory. Short passes seemed to bewilder the local team, and the ball was worked up to the basket in a clever manner. Beckwith, Howland and Wright, who have been ineligible up to last week, reinforced Williams, and their reinstatement helped that team to outclass the local quintet.

Williams got the lead early in the first-half and kept it throughout the rest of the game. The score at the end of the first half was 18-12 in favor of the Purple. All through the second period the visitors kept a lead of from six to eight points until with about a minute to play Jones, Hathaway and Goodman scored three field baskets in quick succession. But the Williams captain had the presence of mind to call time, regain the Purples' equilibrium, and make it possible to even up for her defeat at the hands of the Garnet before Christmas. The summary:

aggregation of the ordinary every day absent-mindedness. Just as an absent-minded person so concentrates his attention on the center of interest that he is unaware of the surrounding just so works the body when we have an attack of paralysis.

In discussing the work of the Binet's Tuesday evening Prof. Angell said that the work of A. Binet, whose success in establishing his systems of tests was said to have been of the greatest importance in the institutional, court, and school work with children, and all subnormal persons. Binet was a professor at Sarbonne and the founder of the psychological laboratory there. He wrote on a wide variety of subjects, animal magnetism, mental fatigue, reasoning suggestibility. Selecting from such a wealth of material Dr. Angell described Binet's contributions on multiple personality and tests for the diagnosis of mental conditions.

The lecturer spoke briefly on diagnosis of such cases as loss of memory or such cases as we often read of in the newspapers of people who have wandered away, forgotten who they are, or where they live, etc., and after having lived an entirely different life have suddenly remembered who they are and all about their former selves. The speaker explained the theories regarding these cases.

Dr. Angell said that the Binet tests had greatly aided in the advancement of subnormal persons and children.

MUSICAL CLUBS LAUDED BY HOMER GREENE

The following is a copy of a letter received by President Richmond from Homer Greene, '76, author of "Unions Marching Song."

Honesdale, Pa.,
Dec. 14th, 1916.

Dear Dr. Richmond:

I want to tell you what a decided success the Union College concert was at Scranton on the evening of December 1st. The young men did extremely well. The audience was large, representative and enthusiastic. I saw many men and women there who are among the most prominent residents of Scranton, socially, financially and intellectually. I was not able to stay to the reception and dance, but I understand that this part of the entertainment was equally successfully with the other. As the place where the concert was given is near the hospital where I have been receiving treatment, I was able by personal effort, and the help of friends, to attend, very to my gratification.

The malady that has been rather persistently pursuing me for the last nine months, and that prevented me from attending the fortieth anniversary of my graduation last June, appears to be now in full retreat, and I hope to be able to resume my ordinary activities early in the coming year.

With personal regard to you and success to the college,

I am most sincerely yours,
HOMER GREENE.

Y. M. C. A. TO TEACH ENGLISH TO FOREIGNERS

Fifteen Men Volunteer To Carry On Work of Instruction.

At a meeting held in Silliman Hall last evening, nearly fifteen men volunteered to teach English to foreigners in classes to be formed soon in the American Locomotive Works.

Irving H. Day, who has charge of this work, presided, and opened the meeting with a few remarks, explaining the project. It is proposed to establish several classes, each led by college men. The classes will meet at favorable places in the Locomotive Works, there being three or more each week, each under the tutelage of a different man. The method of teaching will follow the successful Roberts System, which utilizes the medium of oral and visual explanation. It is thought that several hundred of the three thousand foreigners employed at the Works, will attend.

Mr. Churchill of the City Y. M. C. A., who has already had charge of several similar classes, was also present at the meeting and gave a further explanation of the work. He said that the management of the Locomotive Works had offered to give the men every possible advantage and opportunity to attend the classes, and that he would assist the students in every way. He also expressed the appreciation of the Locomotive Company for the students' interest in the welfare of their men.

On Friday at 1:45 and Monday at 2, parties of the prospective teachers will leave Silliman Hall for a tour of inspection through the Locomotive Works. This trip will allow the men an opportunity to see conditions as they exist and to accustom themselves to the ordinary technical language of the shop.

Books, explaining the work in full, are now on file in Silliman Hall, and interested students are invited to see them there. Such students are also invited to make the trips through the shop, and any who may wish to take up work in this line should see Irving Day

MERCEDES MYSTIFIES COLLEGE STUDENTS

Gives Clever Exhibition of Transmission of Thought and Wireless Telepathy.

Mercedes, and his assistant Mlle. Stanton, appearing at a local theatre, gave an exhibition of transmission of thought and wireless telepathy, at the Alpha Delta Phi house Wednesday afternoon which completely mystified their audience of faculty and students. Anyone could whisper the name of a piece into the ear of Mercedes, and Mlle. Stanton would promptly play it. As a further exhibition of their skill, two students were requested to stand behind the pianist, and think of some melody. They did, and without a word being spoken Mercedes' assistant played the pieces which the two students wanted.

It mattered not whether the piece was a classic or a modern syncopated melody, the pianist played it.

Prof. Hoffman was among those present and though he gave out no statement, was evidently agreeably impressed by the two performers, who really did something clever.

Over 100 men signed up last Tuesday for the Aero Corps, which is to be established at Princeton. A regular course will be given in the subject.
