PRESIDENT'S SPEECH MARKS INDUCTION

"My Boys Still" Makes Affecting Opening—Oath Given By Lieut. Miller.

October the first, noon, witnessed the induction of nearly five hundred Union College students into the service of the United States army, along with college students all over the country. The impressive ceremony took place before the flag-pole, on the campus ground fronting the pasture, and was witnessed by President Richmond, Dean B. H. Ripton, Colonel Wescott, Acting Adjutant General of the State Guard, Lieutenant Colonel Jackson, Lieutenant Miller, Mayor Simon, Monsignor J. H. Reilly, and several other well known Schenectadians. Two companies of the State guard were present and General Electric band furnished the music.

After some manoeuvres, the two companies were drawn up before the speaker's stand at the foot of the flag-pole, and watched the raising of the flag to the tune of our national anthem. Lieutenant Miller then arose, and after a short preliminary speech, impressing the students with the importance of the step they were taking, administered the oath of allegiance. Following this, he read the order which established the Student Army Training Corps and the message of congratulations from Acting Secretary of War Benedict Crowell.

After short speeches by Mayor Simon, and Colonel Wescott, President Richmond delivered the speech of the occasion. His speech is, in part, appended:

"The fact that the college provides valuable resources to the government for the training of officers is good and sufficient reason for the appropriation of various institutions by the government for this work.

"The government has found in the colleges of the country many facilities which it would be impossible to assemble otherwise for the purpose of training, at such short notice. There are housing facilities for men, facilities ready at hand for the academic side of the training, appliances for the teaching of science, mathematics, languages—all the things which are necessary to the mental training of men who may help officer the army.

"This system does not mean that the college men are a favored class or that they will be placed in a deferred class. It simply means that, as a rule, officers should be men of as great mental training as possible and this the colleges naturally furnish. If the United States had had a large standing army the officers would have been recruited from the ranks, and it would have been perfectly proper, but there was not enough material in the standing army to officer the tremendous national army as it was raised. More than that, an officer in this army needs more training, a wider technical knowledge and experience than in the civil war or any other war ever fought.

Process of Selection.

"Not all the boys who enlist in the Student Army Training corps will be officers. The course is for the express purpose of trying them out, and only those who are alert, quick to learn and show amilitary adaptability will be selected. According to the plan of the war department the government will, from time to time, assign members of the S. A. T. C. to officers' training schools or to the depot brigade and others may continue such technical or special training as the needs of the service may require.

"Speaking from the standpoint of an educator, I consider that education, as such, has adjourned for the time. No

LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN NETS $12,000 SUBSCRIPTION

The Liberty Loan campaign held here recently under the supervision of Lieutenant Harry N. Gitt has netted a total of $12,000, which stands for a 100 per cent subscription. The credit for this amount is to go to the college itself, rather than to the city of Schenectady. Most of the bonds sold were of fifty dollar denomination. By a special arrangement, payment is to be made in five dollar monthly installments to continue for ten months. The amount will be deducted from the soldiers' pay. Not all the men availed themselves of this installment plan, but paid the amount down.

THIRTY SEVEN MEN GO TO CAMP TAYLOR

Candidate Artillery Officers Take Oral Exam.

Thirty-seven members of the Student Army Training Corps left Friday at 4:57 P. M. for the Officers' Training Camp at Camp Zachary Taylor, near Louisville, Kentucky. The men were chosen from the two companies according to gradings received in oral examinations given by the military staff. The men from Company A are: G. C. Green, Edward P. Hewlett, C. O. P. Werres, Samuel Ginsburg, Louis W. Haskell, Edwin C. Tartter, Alonzo W. Hallock, Charles E. Tienkin, Edward B. Wallace, Paul H. Gallien, Leonard J. Gans, and Robert E. Gessel.

Company B sends the follows: J. C. Eisenberg, Samuel Davis, W. S. Gale, F. L. Comstock, Kenneth S. Sheldon, C. A. Brind, E. F. Gidley, Thomas Wilber, J. C. Hoppe, E. M. DeRouville, Edgar W. Snell, M. M. Simon, Gilbert Cool, D. C. Ashley, Kenneth Mott-Smith, R. D. Metzner, P. F. Kirsch, A. W. Riley, J. Wemple, Edward J. Walsh, J. Pearsall, Donald O'Brien, Joseph Brucker, J. M. Cline, Arthur Manning, A. Rubin.

It is reported that the middle of November will see the departure of about sixty men for infantry officers' camps.

NEW MESS HALL NEARING COMPLETION

The construction of the new mess hall which is to be used by the S. A. T. C. is now well under way, and the building will be ready for use by the 25th of November.

When finished the hall will be about one hundred and twenty feet long and forty feet wide, with a seating capacity for five hundred men. The mess hall proper fronts on the north side of the campus, and an extension in the rear will be partitioned into kitchen and storage rooms. The structure will be finished with novelty stucco, and will present an appearance in keeping with the other buildings on the campus.

Windows on all sides assure a well lighted interior which will also be properly ventilated and pleasant. The seating arrangement will be the same as is used at present in the gymnasium, but the floor area is not as large and this fact will facilitate better service and less confusion.

On the whole the new building will prove a good addition to the campus, and its use will restore the gym floor and the pool to their proper functions.

S. A. T. C. MEN TO VOTE.

Announcement has been made by Major Harding that S. A. T. C. men who are of age will vote on election day, November 5. Those who live in this city will vote at their local boards and those who live outside of the city will vote at the state armory.

GULICK CAPTAINS FOOTBALL SQUAD

Succeeds Comstock Who Left for Camp—Probable Wesleyan Game Saturday.

Harold V. Gulick was elected captain of the football team last Thursday afternoon at practice. Gulick plays at right tackle and is an exceedingly efficient lineman. He is a member of Beta Theta Pi and has always taken an active part in college activities. He is secretary-treasurer of the Terrace Council.

This election makes "Dutch" the third captain of football so far this year. He was elected to take the place of F. L. Comstock who left this afternoon for Camp Zachary Taylor with the other men from the S. A. T. C. Captain Comstock in his turn was elected to fill the vacancy left by Captain "Bill" Hanley when he left earlier in the season for Camp Lee.

The team has been hampered a good deal this year by many such difficulties as several promising men have left for one reason or another. This afternoon three men besides ex-Captain Comstock left. They are: Haskell, Gale and Gidley. The loss of these men gives rise to another difficulty but the line-up will probably be in shape for a game tomorrow.

The game with R. P. I. scheduled for this Saturday has been cancelled at the request of the President of R. P. I. This is due to the epidemic of Spanish influenza. The management is trying to arrange a game with some other team for this Saturday as there are but two games left after this week. Wesleyan will be the probable opponent Saturday. Five games have already been cancelled.

The team did not get as much practice this week as formerly because of the change in time. But the arc lights are now installed and it is possible to get as much practice as before. All week the team has been practicing diligently under the watchful eye of Coach Shanklin and has been perfecting its off-tackle plays and end runs. Probably a good share of the backfield work will fall to Heidorf, who is indeed a "find." Heidorf is a consistent gainer and an excellent defense man. Despite unfavorable conditions a fairly good team will represent Union if the management proves successful in "angling" for a tilt.

The rest of the schedule is:
Nov. 9.—Columbia at New York City.
Nov. 16.—Hamilton at Schenectady.

* The football management has *
* at the last moment, by long dis- *

* with Hamilton College, at Clin- * * ton to take the place of the R. *
* P. I. game, scheduled for Satur- *

PX PROVES HUGE SUCCESS.

The Post Exchange established here under the supervision of Lieutenant Harry N. Gitt has proved to be a real success. According to the manager, W. W. Wemple, about fifty dollars are taken in every day. Everything from uniforms and styptic pencils to socks and ice cream is sold. About seventy-five per cent. of the profits will go toward student entertainment and Y. M. C. A. work. The remainder will purchase necessary office equipment for the company orderly rooms.

John Reardon of Glens Falls has been appointed bookkeeper. Wemple succeeds Samuel Davis, who has left for Camp Zachary Taylor.

CHAPEL SERVICE TO BE HELD HERE SUNDAY

The Army Y. M. C. A. located at the Kappa Alpha Lodge, is to hold a short service at nine A. M. in the college chapel, Sunday, November 3rd. Dr. Richmond is to be the speaker, and what he will say will be of interest to all. This is the first of a series of Sunday morning services to be held under Y. M. C. A. auspices. Speakers will be brought here to address the students.

SOPH-FROSH BATTLES HEART-RENDING TALE

Lively Cane Rush, Idol Scrap and Soph Victory.

(By a Soph.)

On September 21, a motley crew of 350 men entered the Blue Gate and registered as Freshmen. Before noon of that day over a hundred meek lambs had been fleeced of a twenty-five cent campus tax. Nary a complaint. In the afternoon, more Frosh helped keep the campus neat. That evening fifteen Sophs, careless of the overwhelming numerical strength of their rivals, roamed down State Street and posted the town green. All told the fifteen hazed over twenty-five of the underclassmen, although over a hundred Frosh were on the street. The next week, the Frosh got together and became familiar with the town, especially with the city lockup. Then they got out posters calling the Sophs yellow because fifty second year men didn't care to cross bats with 350. The next night a few of the fifty forced the Frosh to take down these posters.

Finally Saturday came. The Frosh were confident until things started and then—they felt differently. The cane fell to the Sophs 8 to 4. The big scrap this year was the Idol scrap. Ninety-one Frosh were around the Idol in five rings. Then forty-six Sophs came along, looked at the Frosh, made one rush and safe to say when the scrap was over, the Idol was Sophomore green. A mystery of this scrap was the disappearance of the Freshmen paint. Some meek Freshmen scrap leaders passed the red liquid, contained in pint ice cream boxes, to some "awful wicked" Sophomores, who appropriated it for purposes at variance with the intentions of the original purchasers.

By the time the scraps were over, the Frosh no longer thought the Sophs yellow. Far from it. Over twenty-one were mourning their silken locks. In all, the day was a red letter day for 1921, while 1922 has been trying to forget it ever since.

PORTION OF INGALSBE LIBRARY BEQUEATHED TO COLLEGE

By the will of the late Judge Grenville M. Ingalsbe, of Hudson Falls, N. Y., a prominent Union alumnus of the class of 1868, the college library is to be enriched with more than a thousand books, which promise to make the college collection rank among the foremost in the state. According to the will, Miss Mary E. Lawler, chief executrix, is empowered to grant the college such books as she may decide upon; but Miss Lawler has very kindly asked Dr. E. E. Hale and Mr. Dewitt Clinton to advise with her as to what books would be of most value to the library. Several volumes of bound and unbound periodicals, and of the New York Tribune are included in Judge Ingalsbe's collection.

Student or Soldier?

The opening issue of THE CONCORDIENSIS greets a student body which is composed of a vastly different element than student bodies of former years. We are conscious, at this time, of some thing of an anachronism in applying that significant phrase "student body" to the men here at Union—or, indeed, at any college in the country. Those who have been here two or three years, or even one year, will quite easily understand our point. They will know what a student body is or should be, and these questions will doubtlessly arise in their minds.

Are we preserving and insuring the continued existence of those old traditions that should make us a Union College student body? Are we retaining the "body" organization without which we cannot exist as a coherent mass? Are we, in short, a real student body?

If we put these questions to ourselves squarely, we can obtain but one truthful answer, and that answer is, "No!" We are lacking in all the essential characteristics which make a group of college men a student body. We have not the required organization. We have ceased to observe the traditions that really make this college. In fact, their future existence is seriously endangered; for if we do not carry them on, who will? We have a huge Freshman class, the largest in the history of the college. But what do they know of college and college life? Will they ever be able to tell succeeding classes anything of Union customs? This new class is almost wholly unacquainted with our songs and our cheers, our get-togethers, and our student activities. Thanks to the zeal of the Sophomore class they have learned the Alma Mater. We should not allow them to forget that, at least; and at the same time we should see to it that our own memories grow not rusty.

We have spoken of what we are not. Now we ask what are we? Probably most of us would like to say "students." But that would not be really correct. We are an interesting combination of student and soldier, and rather more soldier than student. In fact, we have been assured that the only reason most of us are students at all, is because we are soldiers. This is, to a great extent, true, and from this it may be argued that we owe an obligation of devotion and study toward the soldier portion of our lives. The government certainly has a right to ask of us a return for the special advantages it is granting college men. We owe to it our co-operation in bringing this war to a speedy and successful conclusion. Just so far, is it up to us to interest ourselves in becoming good soldiers, namely, to win the war. After the war is over, there may never be need of soldiers again. Let this fact of the transiency of our soldierhood impress itself upon the minds of each one of us. We are soldiers only for the period of the present exigency." This exigency, from its very nature, must cease to exist sooner or later. The government has realized all this, and the recent order prohibiting upper-class engineers and chemists to apply for commissions is in line with the desire to keep college going. After the war each one of us will have his own life to live, without government aid. After that the college will have to support itself again, the activities will be needed again, and the spirit of the institution will again become necessary to its existence.

Are we, then, going to become soldiers so thoroughly that our student lives must suffer? Are we going to neglect attendance to our classes? Are we going to allow our future careers to become handicapped by a set of conditions which are of a day? And, again, must we allow the future welfare of Union to suffer by neglecting her activities, her songs, her customs and her traditions? The college as an institution is really a permanency. We cannot but feel some regret, when we realize that transient events are crippling its full functionings and actually endangering its further welfare and that of future students. It is most obviously our duty to old Union to mitigate as much as possible the effects of the present state of things upon the course of college life. And we can do this by preserving and carrying on Union's activities and traditions; by being, to the utmost of our ability, "Prexy's boys."

CONCORDIENSIS

BOARD WILL MEET

There will be a short but important meeting of THE CONCORDIENSIS Editorial staff on Monday, November 4th, at 9:30 A. M., in THE CONCORDIENSIS office, No. 3 Washburn Hall. All men whose names appear in the mast-head of this issue are asked to be present, and also those who wish to try out for positions on the staff.

"MAROON" SENDS COMMUNICATION

The appended communication has been received from the "Maroon" of Colgate University:

"We regret to announce that there will be no Maroon this year. The entire time of the staff is occupied with instruction and drill urgent to the progress of The Student Army Training Corps.

"This publication which has been a binding force between the student body and the alumni of Colgate University, is being suspended for the duration of the war; as well as all other college activities to permit every man to exert his efforts for the one great cause.

"We appreciate the loyal support of our readers and advertisers, and take this opportunity to thank them most sincerely. We also earnestly trust that when the big job in which we are to take an active part has been completed; we may again have your constant support and loyal co-operation.

"For the Maroon Board

Secretary Eaton of the Schenectady Warehouse Y. M. C. A. has been assisting Secretary Blecker. In the near future a census is to be taken, in which each man will be asked to give his religion and his favorite magazine. The magazines picked will be bought and the men will be divided into Catholics, who will be sent to St. John's for religious services, Jews, who will be sent to the various synagogues, and Protestants, who will have services in the K. A. House after mess. On Sunday evenings there will be social song gatherings, where refreshments will be served and a general good time is assured. Games have been enjoyed the past two weeks by the members of the S. A. T. C. The two companies would line up one against the other and many fierce struggles resulted. ARRIVAL OF MORE COTS TO CAUSE SHIFT

Men Will Be Quartered According to Squads.

According to a well authenticated report there will be a general shift of the men occupying the dormitory-barracks at the present time, as soon as a sufficient number of cots and bedding arrives to accommodate every member of the S. A. T. C. Men are to be quartered according to their squads. This arrangement will, of course, break up the present groupings, which have been formed on individual inclinations.

The reported arrival of barrack furniture in the near future, will bring all S. A. T. C. members under full military discipline. The guard-system will be materially developed. The supervised study which has been going on for the past week will doubtlessly be mainly carried on in the barracks themselves.

TERRACE COUNCIL MEN ELECTED EARLY IN FALL

Snell, Lefkowitz, and Gulick Are Successful Candidates.

These men are Herman Lefkowitz of Rochester, Dewitt S. Snell of St. Johnsville, and Harold Gulick of Brooklyn. Lefkowitz has long been active in various branches of athletics, particularly football, and is a member of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity. Snell has been captain of track and has been prominent in other college activities. He is a member of Delta Upsilon. Gulick has been an active football man for two years and is now captain of the team. He is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

The other four members of the Terrace Council are Lloyd Parker, president of the Senior class, Karl H. Gorham, Edward S. Cassidy, and Varmer Lyman. The three last named men were tapped according to immemorial custom last spring by the outgoing Terrace Council.

PARODY ON "SOLDIERS' MESS—GENERAL ORDERS"

A soldier at Camp Zachary Taylor sends the following list of instructions for Soldiers' Mess. They are twelve in number:

- "Soldiers' Mess—General Orders."
 - "1. To take charge of all spuds and gravy in view."

HONOR COURT CON- STITUTION READ MONDAY

At a meeting of the student body last Monday the annual ceremony of reading the constitution of the Honor Court to the new students was observed. A motion was also made and carried to suspend indefinitely all student rules in the case of S. A. T. C. members. Contrary to the expectations of many, it has been decided to continue the activity of the Honor Court, and observances of its rules will be strictly enforced. All Freshmen are urged to read the rules of examinations in the Freshman Bible.

LIBRARY OPEN SUNDAYS.

Beginning October 21, and until further notice it has been decided to keep the college library open on Sunday afternoons from two o'clock to five-thirty. This change is an event in the history of the library and its continuance will doubtlessly depend upon the Sunday use of the library by students.

On week days except Saturday, the hours are 8-12, 2-6, and 7:30-9:30. On Saturdays, the building will be open from 8:30-12.

PLATTSBURG FOLK-SONG.

This bound-to-be-popular ditty, imported from Plattsburg, and sung with great success by the "men who know," is a parody on that other well known gem, "Oh! Beautiful K?K?Katy." "Oh! Horrible K-K P, Horrible K-K P, You're the only j-j-job that I abhor, And when the m-m-moon shines, over the mess shack, I'll be mopping up the k-k-kitchen floor."

INOCULATION CAUSES
HAVOC IN CLASSES

Men Suffering From Imaginitis
Fail to Make Classes.

SICK CALL POPULAR

Doctors Kept Busy Attending
Men—Work Made Easy for Those "Stuck."

The much expected, but un hoped for inoculation took place Wednesday and Thursday, in the infirmary, when the two companies, about two hundred or more strong, lined up in front of that building to receive the injection which will cause them to be immune from small-pox, typhoid and a half dozen other communicable diseases, prevalent in soldiers' camps.

With continual jibes of "You'll like it!" and remarks of the unusual business of the undertakers being kept on the jump because of the injections, the men stood in line for the final steps which would make them real all-around soldiers. They filed into the operating room of the hospital, where three of the contracting army surgeons, assisted by a corps of nurses, made ready for the young bedgling warriors. As the men filed in, in continuous procession, they rolled up their sleeves, after removing their coats, and one of the nurses carefully painted the spot on the arm where the injection would be made. Then the medicos took the needle with the little tubular attachment and commenced their operation. Very few men were seen to keel over from the effects of this course, but then there was the vaccination which followed. A prick on the other arm, with some more serum completed the job.

An interesting note of this feature was the amount of serum injected into the arms of the men. While the men in the cantonments are known to receive three doses of the inoculations, yet at the college, only one dose was given three fold, which relieves the S. A. T. C. men of awaiting the painful ceremony three times.

Still another amusing feature of this episode is the amount of men who answered sick call on the following day. Despite the fact that three day liberty from all drill formation, which was shortly after rescinded, several of the men complained about sore arms, chills, fevers, and a dozen or more imaginary ills, which according to the pre-medics of the class of '22 do not exist. Yet the fellows were sick and insisted that they were, despite the attempts of the officers to alleviate their sufferings, relating the tales of bayonet practice while at Plattsburgh during the course in training on the same day that they received their injections.

But it's a sad story, Buddy, for despite the attempts of Dr. Goddard, Fay and the other medicos to cause them as little pain as possible, yet the men were so enrapt in the press despatches regarding the inoculation that they could see no other way out of it, except that their arms were sore and they were therefore sick.

UNIFORMS NOT YET HERE;

900 BLANKETS HAVE COME

A slight ray of hope for the S. A. T. C. men who were suffering for the want of uniforms was discerned, when Lieut. Clarence S. Moore, battalion quartermaster, announced that the long desired articles of wearing apparel were on their way. Lieut. Moore did not care, however, to give definite facts or figures regarding the uniforms and equipment, but he did admit that it was a question of time when the shipment would arrive.

Not only has the delay been caused by shortage of material, according to the quartermaster, but also by several priority orders.

According to press reports and occasional correspondence from our men on the fighting line, there are hardly enough uniforms for the men in France, who are given preference.

The uniforms to be worn by the S. A. T. C. men will not be woolen, but will be of a cotton mixture. The overcoats will be of excellent quality, however.

Other announcements made by Lieut. Moore included the matter of a shipment of 900 woolen blankets from a Boston firm which is expected momentarily. These will be distributed immediately upon their arrival.

WAR AIMS LECTURERS MEET
MONDAY AFTERNOONS

The War Aims Committee, consisting of eight members of the faculty, is holding meetings every Monday afternoon to discuss and prepare topics for War Aims lectures. One topic is presented to the committee each week by one of the members, generally in the form of a lecture, and a bibliography and other preparations are made for its presentation to the students on the following Monday morning. In this way, the weekly lectures, given in eight different classes are perfectly standardized. The director of War Aims Courses, a member of the War Department Committee on Education and Special Training, Mr. Frank Aydelotte, has been sending the college a mass of material and suggestions for topics.

The eight members of the War Aims Committee are as follows: Dr. B. H. Ripton, Dr. E. E. Hale, Prof. John I. Bennett, Dr. G. D. Kellogg, Dr. S. P. Chase, Dr. F. H. Fobes, Dr. H. G. McKean, and Dr. J. H. Stoller.

THREE NEW MEN
ADDED TO FACULTY

New Math, Drawing & Engineering Instructors Have Excellent Records.

The faculty has added to its number three new instructors this year. Mr. John H. Sawkins, C. E., instructor in engineering and descriptive geometry, Mr. Roger W. Clifford, instructor in engineering drawing, and Mr. David S. Morse, A. M., instructor in mathematics.

Mr. Sawkins is a native of Baltimore, Maryland, and graduated from Baltimore City College in 1908. The next four years he spent in the engineering department of the Rock Island lines, Topeka, Kan. In 1912, Mr. Sawkins entered Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., and after two years of study there, entered K. P. L., where he graduated in 1915 with a C. E. degree. Before coming to Union he was superintendent of the repair plant of Henry Steers, Inc., contracting engineers, New York City.

Mr. Sawkins is a member of Sigma Xi and Tau Beta Pi honorary fraternities.

Mr. Roger W. Clifford originally comes from Manchester, N. H., but has been for the past ten years in the drafting department of the American Locomotive Company. For two years before coming to Union he acted as apprentice instructor in drafting.

Mr. David S. Morse was graduated from New York University in 1917 with the degrees of A. M. and Ph. D. During 1917-1918 he was a graduate student in mathematics at Harvard University, where he was granted the degree of A. M. in 1918. During the summers of 1916 and 1917 he acted as special lecturer in mathematics at New York University, and was instructor in mathematics for the third term in 1917. Mr. Morse is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary fraternity.

AN S. A. T. C. TID-BIT.

Here is a story from an S. A. T. C. somewhere in the United States:

A lieutenant was observed drilling a company of student soldiers with heart-breakingly disastrous results. Something seemed to be wrong. "Squads right!" became "squads left!" to the ears of the privates, and vice versa. Rear ranks found themselves miraculously and unexpectedly transformed to front ranks. At last the lieutenant, totally exasperated, called "Rest!" and proceeded to tell the following little tale:

"When I was a kid, I had a set of wooden toy-soldiers, with which I used to play almost all the time. One day my toy-soldiers disappeared. My mother and I hunted all over but with no results; and I wept and sobbed for my little wooden soldiers. My mother tried to console me by saying, 'Oh! you'll find them some day; you'll find them. Don't cry.' And I'll be hanged if I don't think I've found them at last."

IN MEMORIAM, FRANK GRASSO

The Union College S. A. T. C. suffered another loss his week when Frank Grasso '22 of Schenectady died of pneumonia after an illness of eleven days. Grasso, who was very prominent in athletic circles in this city, graduated from Schenectady High School in June, 1917. He entered Union with the class of 1921, but was forced to leave college because of lung trouble. However, he went to Saranac and regained his strength. He was in tip-top shape when he entered college this fall as a pre-med of the class of 1922.

Eighteen uniformed members of the S. A. T. C. under Lieut. McOwen acted as an escort during his funeral services, which were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the deceased's home in Strong Street. The body was conducted to St. Anthony's Church, Nott Street, where services were held. Finally Grasso was buried in St. John's cemetery.

COMPANY A VICTOR IN FIRST FOOTBALL GAME

Lyman and Heidorf Shows Results of Excellent Coaching.

Company A of the college S. A. T. C. defeated Company B to the tune of 7-0 in an interesting and hard fought football match on Alexander Field, Saturday, October eleventh. This game was the first of the series, scheduled by the football management. The deciding score was made in the third quarter when Carr intercepted a forward pass and raced twenty yards for a touchdown.

The game was played in a down-pour of rain which prevented a large attendance. The players consisted mainly of varsity candidates who were divided up between the two company units. The game was attended by a large number of spectators. The game was played on the part of the offensive by the Lyman and Heidorf. Both men showed the expert coaching they have received in the art of line-bucking and end-running. The game itself provided tense moments from the first kick-off to the final whistle. Once in the first period Company B managed to manoeuvre the elusive pigskin down the field to the five yard line, only to be forced to surrender the ball on downs.

FRESHMAN BIBLES MAKE FAVORABLE IMPRESSION

The Union College Handbook for 1918-19 have been distributed. The saying is that good things come slowly, and this is no exception.

The leather binding created a favorable impression, an impression which the contents of the book augmented. Besides the usual information concerning the college activities and traditions and the songs of Old Union, this year's book contains a particularly timely foreword by President Richmond.

It is interesting to note that at the time the handbook was compiled, plans for the S. A. T. C. were still very indefinite. At that time it was undoubtedly expected to be but an enlargement of the college R. O. T. C. The regular college calendar is given, as is the original football schedule.

Arthur B. Dougall, '19, was editor-in-chief of this excellent little book and John W. Hoag, '20, assistant editor-in-chief. Stewart F. MacMillan, '20, was manager, James M. Cline, '20, associate editor, while Thomas H. Wilber, S. Russell Nesbitt and Samuel E. Armstrong, all of the Sophomore class, were candidate associate managers.

FIVE HUNDRED FORTY STUDENTS REGISTERED

The total number of Union College students, by the latest count, is five hundred and forty. Of this number thirty-five are members of the Senior

MILITARY AUTHORITIES PUBLISH COMPLETE LIST OF SALUTE REGULATIONS

The military authorities have issued a set of rules for saluting officers, which is altogether comprehensive and leaves no excuse for delinquencies in properly greeting commissioned men. It is particularly noted that privates are required to salute officers in every branch of the United States fighting forces, Army, Navy and Marine.

The complete list of regulations is appended:

1. Men are required to salute any commissioned officers of the army, navy and marine corps.

2. The distance prescribed at which to salute is thirty (30) paces. This is to be intelligently interpreted. If an officer is approaching the salute is rendered at six (6) paces.

3. Men saluting assume a rigid position of attention and look directly at the officer saluted. The salute is held until it is returned or the officer has passed. If a group of men are standing about when an officer passes, the one first seeing the officer calls the others to attention. All salute.

4. Men on trucks or in automobiles, except men occupied, will salute. Drivers will salute when it does not interfere with their driving.

5. In the reading or Y. M. C. A. rooms, men will not salute or come to attention unless spoken to.

6. When spoken to by an officer or before speaking to an officer, men salute. The men salute when they are in a line. If they leave the presence of an officer, they salute and execute the about face.

7. Men do not salute in picture shows, theatres, restaurants, crowded hotels, street cars, trains, etc., nor call attention on the streets.

8. At mess, when an officer enters, attention is called and the men stop eating and sit in a rigid position of attention until the officer gives them "At Ease," but they do not rise.

9. Men with rifles salute with the rifle salute, either from the right shoulder or the order.

10. 10. Sentinels salute by presenting arms. If spoken to they salute when addressed and when the officer leaves. If the officer remains about their post, they do not salute more than one time.

11. Men working do not salute where it interferes with the proper performance of their work.

12. Men in classes at the University or in the shops will not salute unless addressed.

13. A man in charge of a detail calls the detail to attention, if it is not already at attention, and salutes.

14. Prisoners will stand with arms folded but never salute.

15. When the National Anthem or To The Colors: (1) if uncovered (hats off), stand at attention facing toward the music; (2) if covered, (hats on) salute at the first note of the anthem and hold it to the last.

16. Sentinels on guard come to "Present Arms". Men not in formation, armed, will execute the rifle salute.

17. When greeting a lady, the head dress is not removed, but the customary salute is rendered.

18. When in doubt, salute.

19. Men will be held strictly accountable for the proper observance of these rules.

class, the survivors of an original class of 180, with eight men registered for the three months essential course. The Juniors number fifty-two, and have twelve three-month registrants. The Sophomore class contains eighty-one men, eight of whom are to leave college within three months. The Freshman class, as might have been expected under the existing circumstances, is the most numerous, having a total of three hundred and sixty-seven strong. Only twelve are in the three-months course. In addition there are five special students, who are to remain not longer than three months. It is interesting to note that the Senior class of a year ago today, also numbered about thirty-five men, while the entering class counted one hundred eighty-five.

Soph: You'd better keep your eyes open around this place.
Frosh: Why!
Soph: Well, it would look mighty darn queer, if you kept them shut.

college is living for itself alone now. No class of men has responded more quickly to the call for soldiers than the college men, and the colleges are now considering themselves as institutions which are well qualified to render great service to the country as a military resource. Colleges are not thinking now of which can get most, but real rivalry exists as to which can give most to the cause.

"I consider that the scheme is as democratic as anything could be and nothing could be more truly American. The only basis of choice will be superior material for military service. Nothing else counts. The son of the poor man and the son of the rich man are on an absolute par and the one who shows himself the better man will become the officer. I may say that I think it quite as likely to be the son of the poor man. All boys in the corps will receive the same allowance, wear the same uniform, sleep in the same sort of beds, eat the same sort of food, be under the same regulations and they will all have the same opportunities.

Entirely Competitive Basis.

"It should be thoroughly understood that the whole thing is entirely on a competitive basis. These boys are not put in college to be in a safe place but to get them in the place where they may most quickly be made into the most efficient fighters. Let no one think that any boy who cares to may enter college and have the advantage of the education he may get there and possibly escape military service after all. If any boy shows that there is not the right stuff in him—he goes. There is no place where a yell or streak will be detected more quickly and dealt with more summarily. I have an idea that even if the authorities were eliminated from such a proposition the boys would attend to it themselves and an offender would hardly care to remain. There is no doubt that there must be considerable weeding out after the courses open, for all boys are not cut out for officers while they may have great talent in some other direction.

"The infusion of the military spirit into the colleges of the country is the best possible thing just now. As a war measure, and as a means of hurrying up the fighting preparations, it seems the best possible plan. On the other hand, even if many of these boys never see service, the physical training, the discipline and the spirit of the thing will be an advantage to them all their lives. Let us not think any further than that, now we must rush men into the army as quickly as possible and have them trained as well as we can. There should be no thought of deferred education while we have this great task before us. Every boy and man should have first in his heart to Win the War."

Dr. Richmond declared that he considered the moral and mental effect of the student training an excellent thing. The members of the S. A. T. C. will have the same allowance as a pri-

INFIRMARY HELPS IN INFLUENZA FIGHT

Patients Receive Good Care in Comfortable Quarters.

The government hospital located in the Delta Upsilon fraternity house, has been doing its full share in fighting the recent epidemic of influenza and bronchitis. An average of fifteen men have been accommodated each week in the wards and separate rooms, and the patients have cause to praise the care they are receiving. The recent death of J. L. Calkins, '22, is the first to be reported from the hospital since its organization early in October. Calkins died from complications after an attack of influenza.

The orderly work of the infirmary is taken care of by a detail of six Freshmen in the Pre-Medic course, working for four consecutive days. Four men are on day duty from six A. M. to six P. M. and two take care of the night work.

The Delta Upsilon house was chosen for the infirmary, because its architecture is well adapted for hospital needs. Dr. W. W. Goddard and Dr. A. S. Fay are in charge of the medical work, and Miss N. Ryer, a graduate nurse, of the Physicians' Hospital of this city, has been chosen as superintendent. A corps of volunteer nurses assist her. A committee which takes charge of contributions to the hospital is composed of Mrs. C. A. Richmond, Mrs. Frank S. Hoffman, and Mrs. J. W. Yelverton of Schenectady.

'17 MEN VISIT CAMPUS.

Two members of the class of '17 have been visiting the campus during the week, Stephen J. Costello of Schenectady and Wallace S. Girling of Jamaica, L. I. Costello has been in the service since May and has recently obtained his commission as second lieutenant at Camp Humphreys, Virginia. He expects to leave shortly for Camp Fremont, California. Girling, who was a candidate for a commission at Madison Barracks, and was rejected on account of a knee cap injured in football, has had a successful operation performed on the knee, and will now enter the Officers' Training School at Jacksonville, Fla., Motor Transport Division. He is a member of Psi Upsilon fraternity.

TWO '19 MEN STUDENTS AT YALE RADIO SCHOOL

Two Union '19 men who have recently left for the service are Samuel Robinson and Charles Van Patten, of Schenectady, both ordered to report at Yale University, where they will enter the Radio School, preparatory to admission into the Signal Corps of the army. Van Patten was a classical student but took the Signal Corps work here last year under the direction of Dr. Berg, and so qualified himself for admission to the School. Robinson was an EE man, and is a member of Kappa Nu fraternity.

ENGINEERS AND CHEMISTS TO STAY AT COLLEGE

According to a recent order from which is reported to have been strongly urged by Dr. Richmond, all Senior, the War Department, the issuance of Junior, and Sophomore engineering and chemistry students are to be refused applications for admission to officers' training camps until after graduation. This order has had at least one astonishing and unprecedented result, in that many Sophomore engineering and chemical students have petitioned the faculty to be declassified to Freshmen.
