COACH WORKS IN NEW COMBINATIONS

Basketball Team Prepares to Meet St. Lawrence.

GAME STARTS AT 8:30

Guernsey, St. Lawrence Captain
Only Veteran on Up-
State Team

Notwithstanding Saturday's victory over R. P. I., Monday found the basketball squad hard at work in preparation for Friday's game with St. Lawrence. Coach Kuolt tried out several combinations in order to overcome the bad points which developed in Saturday's game. Captain Yavits played guard upon the second team and Peaslee took his place upon the Varsity. In this way the teams were evened up to some extent and the playing became closer. Much attention was given to the perfection of the short pass which so far this season has worked so admirably. This particular style of play this year seems to be distinctively of Union's team, for visiting teams have not displayed very much ability in this particular phase of the game.

Not very much has been learned concerning the strength of the team from the banks of the St. Lawrence. The up-state team has been hindered to some degree by the fact that lack of coal caused the college to close for a short time. St. Lawrence has a good man in Guernsey their captain. Two years ago he played upon the St. Lawrence team which was the first team to administer a defeat to the Garnet upon the court of the New Gymnasium. According to reports, the present St. Lawrence captain scored threequarters of the points made by his team. It may be of interest to know that Guernsey at one time entered up at Union, but because of some difficulty in regards to scholarship he did not remain here.

Friday's game, which will begin promptly at 8:30, should, without doubt, be one of the most interesting of the season. St. Lawrence, although smaller than Union, has a

INTER-CLASS BASKETBALL TROPHY PRESENTED TO COLLEGE BY ALUMNUS

A new inter-class basketball trophy has been presented to the college by Gustave A. Fink of the class of 1889 of the Albany College of Pharmacy. The trophy is in the form of a basketball suspended in a ring of a basket attached to a backboard. It is done in silver and is mounted upon a ebony base. This trophy was promised to the college last year, but was not completed in time. However, the class of 1920 will be credited with the honor winning it for that season. It will remain in the gymnasium, and the names of the winning class teams will be inscribed upon it from year to year.

Mr. Fink has always been a loyal Union Alumnus, and has taken an active interest in college affairs. The trophy is now on exhibition in the window of his pharmacy on Nott street.

Two more games of the inter-class series will be played tomorrow afternoon. At 4:00 P. M. the Sophomores will meet the Seniors and at 5:00 P. M. the Juniors will play the Freshmen

FUNERAL OF COLLEGE TRUSTEE THIS P. M.

Union Alumnus Highly Spoken Of By President.

The funeral of Frederick W. Cameron, '81, who, on Sunday, died of heart failure, was held today from his home in Albany. Mr. Cameron was a loyal alumnus of Old Union, and at the time of his death was a trustee of the college.

President Richmond in chapel Monday said the following concerning Mr. Cameron:

"It is with the deepest regret that I have to announce the death of one of our graduates who has served the college for many years as alumni trustee. Frederick W. Cameron of the class of 1881 died at his home in Albany yesterday afternoon after a brief illness. No one of her many sons has served Union College more faithfully and willingly than Mr. Cameron. He has always met every call upon his time and energies with the utmost cheerfulness. Engrossed as he was on matters of importance, he was never too busy to devote himself to the interests of Union College. His loyalty has set a noble example to all Union men and his memory will be long cherished by those who love the college which he loved and served so well. Mr. Cameron's death is to me the loss of a friend who through a period of more than 20 years has never failed to stand the test of loyalty."

DR. WHIPPLE TO GO TO HOUSTON.

The College is about to lose another valued member of the faculty in the person of Instructor T. K. Whipple of the English Department. Mr. Whipple, who has been with the college for the past eighteen months, will leave about the 1st of February to take up his duties in the English department of Rice Institute at Houston, Texas. His departure will be much regretted by both the faculty and the students.

FRIDAY TO BE DAY OF PRAYER

Address to be Given by Governor
Whitman in the Chapel.

The Day of Prayer for colleges will be held on Friday of this week instead of on Wednesday as had been planned. The change is due to the fact that the funeral of the late Mr. Cameron, a loyal friend and trustee of the college will be held on Wednesday afternoon.

Classes will be let out a little before eleven o'clock on Friday in order to give the battalion time to fall in. There will then be a formal presentation of the colors to the battalion, after which the exercises in the chapel will be held. Governor Whitman will deliver a patriotic address. The service flag, given to the college by the New York City Alumni, will be formally presented to the college at this time.

There will be no classes on Friday afternoon.

PRESS CLUB TO BE REORGANIZED.

There will be a meeting in the Press Club rooms this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of reorganizing the college news publicity service. At a recent meeting of the Press Club this organization was dissolved, and since that time no news of the important events of the college has been going out through any college organization. At the meeting tonight Charley Waldron is going to set forth a plan in which the sending out of news items will be in the hands of two paid students who have had some experience in handling news. It is hoped that all those who are at all interested in journalism will be present at this time.

DR. HILL MEETS LAST CLASSES

Will Take Up Y. M. C. A. War Council Work.

LEAVES AT ONCE.

Has Been a Member of Union
Faculty for Several Years.

Dr. Robert Tudor Hill, assistant professor of economics and sociology at Union College, held his last classes yesterday and today, before leaving to take up his work as a member of the Y. M. C. A. War Council. Since the outbreak of the war, Dr. Hill has been dividing his time between his chair in economics, his position of city commissioner of charities, and "Y" work. His city office expired January 1st, and he will immediately leave for New York to devote all his time to the "Y" work.

Dr. Kellogg, professor of Latin, and Professor McDaniel, assistant professor of civil engineering, will meet Dr. Hill's economic classes next semester. The sociology classes will be dropped, and the members will be given an opportunity to elect another subject in place of them.

Dr. Hill is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he received his baccalaureate in 1903. He was given a doctor's degree in philosophy by Columbia in 1910. He has been a member of Union's faculty for several years. In 1916 he was appointed commissioner of charities by ex-Mayor Lunn. He held this office during the past two years in addition to doing his college work.

All Union men wish Dr. Hill as much success in his new undertaking as he enjoyed in his past work on the Hill.

BROWN ENGINEER WRITES OF EXPERIENCES ABROAD.

Two letters have recently been received from a Brown engineer who went across the waters with the American troops and is now stationed "Somewhere in France."

One letter was sent from Southampton, England, and the other from France.

The letter from England reads in part:

"Just a few lines about Southampton, a quaint, but fairly modern town, as English can be, I suppose. Have been here two days, but not allowed to go into the business section at night. I went down town last night and looked things over. I walked under the old Bar Gate. Troops are coming and going all the time, as it is a real camp. We have nothing to do and shall probably be on the waves soon. Was down town for a hot bath last night which cost me two pence. I have just three and

The Coal Question

At a meeting of the Interfraternity Conference held Monday night, Charley Waldron, representing the faculty announced that the question of obtaining enough coal to heat the college buildings and Fraternity houses was becoming very serious. At present there is enough coal to keep the heating plant running for about two weeks. The fuel administration of the country has authorized the Gaffers Co. to fill the college contract but the difficulty lies in the fact that at the present they are unable to fulfill the contract. Mr. Waldron also announced that twenty students of electrical engineering from Cornell University are coming to the General Electric Company with instructors at the beginning of the next semester. They are desirous of renting an entire house, preferably a Fraternity house if possible.

The coal question is a very serious one indeed. If no more coal is obtainable it will be necessary to close college until the weather becomes warm enough to permit the buildings to be used without freezing of the waterpipes. There are, however, several ways in which the present coal supply might be made to last for a little longer. Several of the fraternities could double up with comparatively little trouble. Whether this would have any of the desired effect would depend upon the number who could be prevailed upon to follow this plan. There might be some prejudice in regard to this matter for reasons best known to the fraternities themselves, but, if it comes to a question of doing this or closing up entirely, these will probably be overruled. It is not a question of what is liked or disliked, it is a question of necessity. It is very essential that college should not close now. There are many reasons for this, among them the serious break in the routine, the upsetting of the plans of the students and faculty alike, and the serious loss of time which would have many effects upon students and college. Then too, is is absolutely necessary that the examinations of the first semester be brought to a conclusion.

Mr. Waldron announced that the General Electric Company has in its possession fifty tons of cannel coal which are available for the Fraternity houses. The fact that the majority of the houses are without means of using this coal because of lack of individual heating facilities, eliminates this method from those which are possible.

What are we going to do about it? It is evident that there is need for immediate action. There is no time for lengthy discussion. It is up to the various houses to decide at once as to the method will best serve the situation. Think it over, but think quickly.

Track

Track men! Where are they? It is one of the big falacies in Union's athletic curriculum that for several years she has not been represented by a track team proportional in distinction to her other branches of sport. This is a condition which must be manifest to every student. Despite the fact that the cost of promoting the track team is comparatively low when compared to football and basketball, and despite the fact that practice can be held the year 'round, it is without doubt, the least conspicuous and the least successful of Union's athletic attainments.

There must be, there is, in the student-body, material for a representative track team. The difficulty arises not from a lack of men who could make runners, but because out of a student of 400 only from six to eight men have been reporting for practice. In other words, the aspirations of the college for a spring track team are represented in some half dozen students.

Possibly the reader may say that in the midst of a most successful basketball season it is no time to "crab." Possibly not. But the thing that distinguishes a college is versatility in athletics, rather than excellence in a single sport, not to bend every effort on football, for example, but to strive for a high place in baseball, basketball, and track as well. This is not always possible. But how did Union come successfully through football last fall? Because men who had never had a pigskin in their hands before got out on the gridiron and tried.

Let the same universal interest be

POL-ECON CLUB HEARS FOREIGN ENGINEER.

At a meeting of the Pol-Econ Club held last night in Silliman Hall, L. Throne of the foreign department of the General Electric Company spoke on the "Social and Economic Causes Leading to the Present Situation in Russia." The meeting was informal, the speaker willingly answering many questions which were asked him. It is probable that he will speak again at another meeting of the club. The meeting was poorly attended.

GIVE US A CHANCE !

Steadfast and strong is the Tommy of England
Gallant and gay is the Poilu of France:
We've been asleep, but thank God, we're awake now!
Frenchmen and Englishmen, give us a chance!

Give us a chance! we stand for the right, too!
Give us a chance! we know how to fight, too!
Brothers of England and Comrades of France,
Give us a chance!

None of our women have perished in torture,
Where the shells scream and bayonets glance,
None of our children have Death for their nature:
Belgians and Serbians, give us a chance!

Give us a chance! we've sweethearts and wives, too!
Give us a chance! for the little one's lives, too!
Now, as we rouse from security's trance,
Give us a chance!

Fair stand our homes in their spring-flushing meadows,
Hands all around for the daffodil-dance!
In the wrecked lands where the death-pall o'er shadows,
Poles and Armenians, give us a chance!

Give us a chance! our strength shall uphold you!
Give us a chance! our love shall enfold you!
Stretch out your faint hands to greet our advance!
Give us a chance!

Up with the Flag, then! Too long has it slumbered,
Furled round the Past in its dream of romance;
Blaze every stripe, every bright star be numbered!
Freedom and Brotherhood give us a chance!

Give us a chance! we stand for the right, too!
Give us a chance! we're in for the fight, too!
Over, and over, and over to France!
Give us a chance!

CONCRETE LECTURE GIVEN BY PANAMA ENGINEER.

The fourth of a series of a lecture given by the Gillespie Society of Civil Engineers was held in the electrical laboratory this morning at 9:00 o'clock. F. W. Hoff, an engineer from the Panama Canal zone spoke on "Construction and Maintenance of Concrete Roads." The lecture was clearly illustrated by a series of lantern slides.

a half pence left and I borrowed that, as we have not been paid for two months, and no signs of any forthcoming. That is no way to treat soldiers. The English soldiers are paid every week. It is true that they do not receive as much, but there is a great satisfaction in having a bit in your pocket.

"The English soldier carries a bunch of insignia, and it has been difficult for us to distinguish the various branches of the service. We can usually get the officers in time to turn around and salute them, but I know that we have saluted many a private by mistake. However, it is better to salute more than less. It saves you being hauled over the coals.

"Some of the boys went to a show last night and were pleasantly surprised to see a picture produced by the Vim Company.

"One sees very few men in citizens' clothes on the streets. There are thousands of soldiers and girls. Coming through from Liverpool to Southampton we saw several factories where women in trousers were working. One can tell that England has felt and is still feeling the war. God grant that it hastens to an end."

The letter sent from France says:

"In France at last, the land of adventure, romance, and passion. It is a pretty country, although in districts it reminds me of New England. I have seen the poilus, the old peasant, the young girl in the field, and the old man at the door, all dressed as I had often read in books. I have also smoked some of the terrible French Government tobacco. Cigarettes of American brands are worth their weight in gold.

"This is the most wonderful camp we have had since we left Providence. I believe it will be our stopping place for a few months, and none of the boys will be sorry. There is plenty to do, plenty to see, and nourishing food to be had at our kitchens, or in the many small inns that surround the camp. All we need is money, and that will arrive soon.

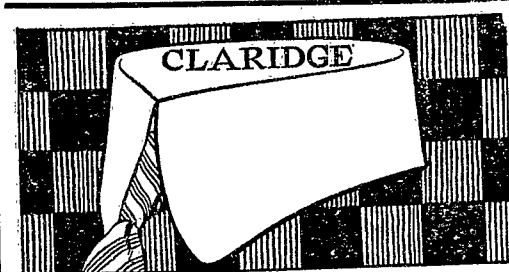

"As to the trip across the channel I can only say that it was terrible."

reputation for sending out rattling good teams, and especially is this true with respect to basketball. Last year the game was a very close one, and the Garnet team was forced to fight all the way.

COLLEGIATE UNREST

There is a spirit of unrest on the campus which makes it very hard to work, and which conduces to a loss of interest in the ordinary college activities. Last spring there was something approaching a panic, but many of us thought that after the first excitement of the declaration of war, and when the undergraduates had again returned to college, most of them being unable to enter the service for some time, events would resume their normal course; college would proceed much as usual, and perhaps a higher standard of scholarship enforced. This opinion, however, has not proved to be correct. Instead, the work has not been generally done as well as usual, while the professors are helpless because they realize the state of mind is made worse by the fact that men are constantly leaving, sometimes singly, recently in a larger group because of the undergraduates who have gone to the third camp.

To a considerable extent, the unrest is excusable; it is in the air. Neglect of work is justifiable also to the degree that it results from devotion of time and thought to preparation for the military life that, so far as anyone can now judge, will be the one that will all enter in the immediate future. For their own sakes, and indeed for that of the country, it is better for the men to prepare thoroughly the assignments for quiz in the drill than the assignment in any of their courses. There is necessary also a physical preparation. The undergraduates should take exercise regularly, and those who have minor disabilities should work particularly to remove them if it is possible. Both the physical and mental preparation for war should now take precedence over the scholastic and extra-curriculum activities.

This fact, however, does not warrant any one in neglecting his work entirely. There has never been a period in the world's history when energetic labor has been more essential. Every ounce of physical power must be exerted to win the war; sacrifice of luxuries, comforts, and even essentials must come if the war is to be brought successfully and quickly to a close. But even more stupendous comparatively than the physical labor required is the intellectual exertion. Never before in the prosecution of war has organization behind the line of battle been carried to such a degree. The national government has become a business to direct which the biggest men in the country in every line of endeavor have been called to Washington. The demand for intelligence and ability, and as problems will not cease with the war an extraordinary demand will continue for many years.

It is therefore vital that everybody and particularly those that have unusual advantages of college men, prepare themselves mentally for the future. The average conversation in college this year is no doubt upon more serious topics than is usual. But there is a neglect of work that cannot be excused even with great concessions to extraordinary demands on the time and attention of the undergraduates. This is a time for greater, not less, exertion; and for sacrifice where they have not been demanded before.
