GEARHART SPEAKS ON CIVIC RIGHTEOUSNESS

Noted Orator Attacks Moral Defects Underlying Our Weaknesses.

TALK TO YOUNG MEN.

Remedies Offered for Each Individual Evils Which Stop Progress.

Col. G. A. Gearhart, of Buffalo, who delivered, yesterday, at the Van Curler, the first of the city Y. M. C. A.'s projected series of lectures for men, amply rewarded those of the College who journeyed down-town to hear him, by placing before them some principles of civic and moral conduct which, if applied, cannot fail of setting up a higher standard of government and of public morality. During his discourse which bore the title of "Civic Righteousness," Col. Gearhart, who is a polished speaker, frequently reached the heights of real oratory in dealing with the problems which confront the nation. He not only fearlessly attacked the more superficial weaknesses of the state, but he sunk his probe deep into the moral defects of its people which underlie those weaknesses. He was not content with enumerating the phenomena which lead the pessimistic to prophecy the ultimate downfall of our democracy, such as mob lawlessness, bossism, Sabbath-desecration, licensed vice, and the liquor traffic. He struck boldly at the thirst for gold, at loose business practices, at mild drinking, and at the double moral standard. His remarks were constructive as well as destructive.

Introduced by Mr. Peck, president of the Schenectady Board of Trade, Col. Gearhart early in his address signified that what he should say would largely concern young men. "I feel," he said in part, "a more than ordinary responsibility in that I speak on a civic subject. For who knows that what I say may influence the

A. PIATT ANDREW PICTURES WORK OF AMERICAN AMBULANCE FIELD SERVICE

We have already more than 200 cars driven by American volunteers, mostly university men, grouped in sections which are attached to divisions of the French army. These sections have served at the front in Flanders on the Somme, on the Aisne, in Champagne, at Verdun (five sections including 120 cars at the height of the battle) in Lorraine and in reconquered Alsace, and one of our veteran sections has received the signal tribute from the French army staff of being attached to the French army of the Orient in the Balkans. We are now on the point of greatly enlarging our service for the last lap of the war, and a considerable number of new places are available.

Every American has reason to be proud of the chapter which these few hundred American youths have written into the history of this prodigious period. Each of the several sections of the American Ambulance Field Service as a whole and fifty-four of their individual members have been decorated by the French army with the Croix de Guerre or the Medaille Militaire for valor in the performance of their work. Information as to the requirements of and qualifications for the service will be gladly sent by Henry D. Sleeper from the Boston headquarters of the Field Service, at Lee Higginson & Co., 40 State Street, or may be obtained from William R. Hereford, at the New York headquarters, 14 Wall Street.

The American Ambulance Field Service has recently been described by a member of General Joffre's staff as "The finest flower of the magnificent wreath offered by the Great America to her little Latin sister."

There are surely many more of the sterling youths of America who would like to add their little to that wreath.

A. PIATT ANDREW, Inspector General, American Ambulance Field Service.

"GAL." STAR SHOT

Scoby, Moynihan, Hathaway and Jones Show Form of Tiger Game.

The Garnet basketball five seems to have struck its stride once more. The form which they have shown in the last two games compares favorably with that shown earlier in the season. On Thursday they defeated the St. Lawrence team and on Saturday another victory was added to the list when they took the Williams team into camp by the score of 19 to 15. Much had been heard during the past week concerning Williams' prowess. The fact that they were without the services of their captain did not detract anything from the team play because Acting Captain Bacon filled his position in a very creditable manner.

The game was fast and exciting throughout. During the first few minutes of play, before the Union team succeeded in getting started, the Williamstown boys rolled up a lead of 9 to 4. Just before the end of the first half, however, baskets by Jones, Scoby, and two by Galbraith made the score 12 to 10 in favor of our boys. Galbraith by the way, played his usual good game. He led in the scoring with four field goals, besides making possible several others.

SUBJECT CHOSEN FOR ALLISON FOOTE DEBATE

Varsity Debaters Hope to Meet Hobart at Geneva.

The subject for the Allison-Foote Debate which will be held February 16th, is, Resolved that the Government of the United States Should Support a Movement to Secure an International League to Enforce Peace. The Philomatheans, who chose the subject, will support the affirmative. Try-outs for their team will be held next Tuesday. The Adelpheans are to uphold the negative and will pick their team next Friday.

Manager Eddy announces that a debate with Hobart on the International League to Enforce Peace question will probably be held about the middle of March at Geneva. Try-outs for the varsity will take place about the middle of next month.

1919 GET-TOGETHER TUESDAY AT 7:15 P.M.

Whole Affair, Especially Food, Promises to Be Very Good.

Tomorrow night at 7:15 P. M., the Sophomore Class will hold a social get-together at Silliman Hall under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. The Social Service Committee headed by Bob Faust, promises 1919 a better time than there was to be had at the Freshman social. This should be an incentive for every Sophomore to come, for every 1920 man who attended his social will say that he had the best time possible.

The Serving Committee, Mrs. W. C. Taylor, Mrs. H. G. McKean and Miss Ruth Ripton, has a surprise in store in regard to the refreshments. President Richmond and Dean Ripton will both be there and will make short speeches. Some new games will be played in which each one will have the chance of engaging himself. Don't forget, Sophomores, tomorrow night at 7:15.

CHARLIE DE LAPLANTE RECOVERING RAPIDLY

Charlie De Laplante, who was operated upon last Wednesday for an acute attack of appendicitis, is recovering rapidly. His parents, who were immediately notified, have been with him. It is expected that he will be able to go to his home in Buffalo in about ten days. Probably he will not be with us again before the beginning of the next semester.

DR. RICHMOND TO SPEAK THROUGH MIDDLE WEST

Alumni Societies to Hear President in Next Semester.

President Richmond will make an extensive speaking tour in the west, during the middle of February. Plans have been completed whereby he will address alumni societies of different western cities on five successive nights. The tour will open in Buffalo upon February 15, when he will address a meeting of Union College graduates. Upon Feb. 16, 17 and 19, respectively, he will speak in Cleveland, Detroit and Chicago. The western trip will be concluded with an address before the City Club of Milwaukee upon the twentieth.

NOVEL DANCE ORDERS FEATURE OF PROM

Chairman Towne of the 1918 Prom has completed his plans for the program of this year's Junior dance. The favors will be card cases of brown leather. There will be thirty-two pages in the program. Each dance is on a separate page, and there is a space left for any memoranda you may wish to make on your partner's grace, or good-looks, etc. At the bottom of each page some appropriate quotation regarding the dance or irresistible femininity, is given.

"BELOW PAR."

Every man at Union feels that with each year a definite advance in true spirit is effected. When the man of a decade ago comes back he usually expresses his gratification at finding existant here a better attitude toward the branch of the college in which he is especially interested. But because this is true we have no justifiable ground on which to cease our persistent endeavor for improvement.

One phase of this subject is the attitude of the student body toward opponent teams and toward athletics in general. We are below par! Whether we appreciate this or not the athletic world with its unerring judgment does not classify us as an absolutely upright college which is in sports for sports' sake.

Several criticisms have come to the notice of THE CONCORDIENSIS, criticisms from older representative men interested in our development, criticisms which in justice belong to the student body. The basic one is founded on the fact that whenever Union is mentioned in athletic councils some slight slur is cast upon us. During the trips of the several New York papers' athletic representatives these men say it is but seldom that the students of other eastern colleges praise the Union attitude.

A few of us may maintain that the reception of our teams at other colleges is evidently not as admirable as that which we accord visitors. If this argument be actually so, it strengthens the position that our relations with other institutions are not proper ones. In other words, it seems to indicate that there is toward us an antagonism. Moreover, the seed for this feeling must be here, or otherwise the feeling which older men declare exists would not be so widespread.

Several rather vague means of improvement suggest themselves. By being hospitable and friendly we might well make this college one which teams like to visit. Nothing would do us so much good as having other teams leave here with the spirit that we had really sacrificed ourselves somewhat to give them a good time.

When students accompany our quintet or eleven, or whatever team may be playing, on out-of-town trips, some rather disagreeable incident is almost sure to occur. Some one man will give objectionable advice and some other will curse volubly at a decision. All this should be stopped.

The old adage that one la! apple spoils the barrel is nowhere more applicably exemplified than in athletics. One man's actions may well be responsible for a whole student body's reputation. Our task is not to change our attitude but it is simply to make the dominant one that which shall represent us.

THE FORUM.

To the Editor:

The recent communication in your column, in which it is proposed that the Freshman banquet be made purely a class affair, and not open to upper-classmen, contains perhaps some common sense. At least, it must be said that the conduct of certain upper-classmen shows that the privilege of attending this function is not appreciated by them. However it must be remembered that this banquet is given in honor of the upper-classmen of Union College. To change the character of the dinner, would, in a large degree, deprive it of its original purpose.

It is argued that the upper-classmen were originally taken along as protectors of the Freshmen and that the recent ruling whereby the Freshmen are not allowed to avail themselves of this protection, makes the presence of these upper-classmen no longer necessary. As far back as 1907 this protection has been a mere formality. The Sophomores have always taken it upon themselves to attempt to mar the harmony of the occasion.

Next it is argued that the added expense of inviting an upper-classman has kept many away from this banquet. Such an argument is absurd. Never has a Freshman been obliged to invite an upper-classman unless he could do so. In conclusion there is but one suggestion to make. Freshmen should use a little common sense and good judgment when they pass out banquet invitations.

THE PAST AND PRESENT

Keep abreast with the times. We are not living in the stage-coach decade, at which time the mentioning of flying machines would have been taken as an idle jest. In the present century you wouldn't think of traveling as one did in by-gone days. Neither would you of having your shoes repaired by the old style hand method way, if you knew the superiority in our up-to-date machine way of repairing.

minds of more than a few of you who listen to me this afternoon, on some great question upon which you may have to decide some day in the future? I hope to leave some thing with you here in Schenectady which will quicken the public consciousness and deepen the well-springs of righteousness." Then plunging directly into his subject matter, the speaker said that the menace to America lies not in the Yellow Peril. It lies in our government, in our institutions, in ourselves. Concentrating his attention upon the purely political evils, the speaker deplored the ease with which votes are at present bought in the larger cities and characterized as vicious the political rottenness which makes such a condition possible. "Many of our political evils," said he, "are the direct product of that unrighteous trinity, Boodle, Bossism, and Beer. And they are furthered not only by venality at the polls, stuffing of ballot boxes in the poorer districts of a city, but by the indolence or indifference of the educated classes populating the better part of that city, who refuse to come to vote. Or it may be that they do come to vote, but find that, on account of their absence from the primaries, they must choose between two bad candidates, chosen while they were asleep at the political switch." "The good citizen," he continued, "exercises ceaseless vigilance at the polls. And if he is unable to register at any other time than prayer-meeting night, let him register then. There is a time to watch and a time to pray."

Then Col. Gearheart turned to evils in the individual nature which hinder the progress of civic righteousness. "Those evils are the love of Mammon, disregard of the holiness of the Sabbath, a tendency to experiment with the monster of drink, and the double standard of morality," he declared. He described them and, while deploring them, offered a remedy for each, giving considerable attention to a discussion of the last. In the whole address, Col. Gearheart was fearlessly plain-spoken, a condition which was made possible by the fact that the meeting was exclusively for men. But so sincere was his presentation of the subject matter and so clearly did he define the duty of the true citizen, that he would undoubtedly draw a larger number of men from the Hill than the fifteen or twenty who listened to him yesterday, should he appear again in Schenectady.

SMITH HISTORY PRIZE SUBJECT IS SELECTED.

"The History of the Presidency, 1901-1917," has been chosen as the subject for the Freling H. Smith prize in history.

The essay is to contain about 5,000 words and must be handed in at the College office not later than May 15.

It is to be prepared and signed as in the case of the Ingham prize. Candidates will report to Mr. Galpin for further direction.

Ernest Torrence, 6 ft. 10 in., Survives From Original Company.

Oh! Winnie Baldwin.

An inferior road company did their best on Saturday evening to ruin the best of all musical comedy books and the most tuneful music that Victor Herbert ever wrote. The book is an adaptation of Frank Mandel's farce "Our Wives," which failed several years ago as a farce. Adapted by Harry Blossom and staged by Fred G. Latham it has become one of the musical comedy successes of all time.

Pretty Winnie Baldwin!

"The Best Little Woman in the World," which will attempt to furnish the student body their dollar's worth of amusement in the near future is built on the same lines as "The Only Girl." The college cast attended the Saturday performance in the hopes of getting pointers but might better have been there for the purpose of giving pointers.

Chic Winnie Baldwin!

Ernest Torrence, of the original company, was far out of the class of the rest of the cast and must have suffered terribly working in such company. Adele Hassan as "Jane", a strange Beardsleyesque looking creature, reassembled very much the croquis in "Vanity Fair."

Lovely Winnie Baldwin!

Why Winnie Baldwin? Because instead of going to see "The Only Girl" we went over to Albany (fatal to our review) and saw "So Long Letty" and Winnie Baldwin. —Oh! Boy.

Soon to Assure Good Report.

The committee in charge of the Prison Camp Relief Fund wishes all members to turn in all reports as soon as possible. Reports continue to come in from members of the neutral body and the faculty in a very gratifying manner. Every fraternity has contributed, although several have not as yet given their final report, since they hope to raise the amount, even though a little. With these in mind it is fully expected that the high mark of $1,500, which was set, will be reached.

At the time of the writing of this article, the amount pledged was somewhat over $1,375, thus making a little less than $125 to go.

A large part of the subscriptions has already been paid in and most of the rest will be due today and tomorrow as the pledge was made for a ten day limit. The committee especially desires that all the money be sent in at once—at the latest by the end of this week or beginning of next, so that when the next reports are published, Union may be represented with the full amount along with the rest of the colleges with whom we are associated such as: Colgate, Amherst, Hamilton, Brown, and others who are contributing to this fund.

Jones, the next in the order in the list of scorers, succeeded in caging the ball three times. Joe is to be complimented on his work so far this year. When we consider that this is his first year on the team his showing is truly remarkable. Scoby, Moynihan, and Hathaway played in the same manner as Galbraith and Jones. Although they did not get their names in the scoring column as many times, it was their work that made the scores possible. The Union teamwork was, on the whole, superior to that of that of the Williams team. After the first fast spurt Williams was never dangerous. The pace which they had set at the beginning had evidently been too fast, for they showed unmistakable signs of slowing down before the end of the game.

First Half.

Union scored the first point when Dug Hathaway caged the ball on a free try. The play at this stage of the game was very fast with Union handling the ball most of the time. A foul on Scoby gave Williams a chance to even the score. James succeeded on his free throw. After one miss Hathaway again made good on a free try and Jones of Union added two more points. Jones of Williams immediately shot another. Williams quickly scored two more field goals. Union seemed unable to score although in possession of the ball. Towards the end of the half the Union boys seemed to regain the range, for Scoby dropped one, followed by a foul by Hathaway. After a tussel for the ball under the Union basket, Jones of

PLATTSBURG DIVISION WILL MEET ON TUESDAY

The first meeting of the Plattsburg Division will be held in the G. A. R. rooms at the city armory at 8:00 P. M., Tuesday, January 23rd. Mr. Lyman Josephs will speak on "Small Bridges," and a beginning will be made in the study of the problems in Bjornstead's "Small Problems for Infantry." The Plattsburgh Committee will present a program for weekly meetings which will take up different topics of interest to the infantry officers. The work is intended chiefly for men who have been to Plattsburg or who are going, and for men studying for the officers' reserve. This program will be followed in the spring by a series of tactical walks.

All interested are invited.

Union pushed one in from the jump. Galbraith increased the lead by dropping two in in rapid succession. One of them was an exceptionally fine shot from the center of the floor. Shortly afterwards Jones of Williams scored on a foul shot, making the score 12 to 10 in favor of Union.

Second Half.

The first twelve minutes of the second half were replete with fast playing, good passwork and close guarding. During this time not a single point was scored. Williams had two free throws and Union had three. Evidently the men had lost their eye for the basket, however, as no score was made. Jones of Union finally broke the ice with a field goal. Galbraith then added another and the Williams boys began to get ready to leave. Their spirits soon rose, however, as Vietor and Lewis scored in rapid succession. Hathaway then scored a foul, and Galbraith completed the scoring of the evening with a field basket.

The smallness of the court accounts for the rather small score. In order to have good passwork a team must have room. A small court makes guarding easy. It also makes the play much faster as the men do not have to cover so much ground and as a consequence do not tire so easily.
