SYRACUSE QUINTET DEFEATED - COLGATE WINS

ORANGE FALLS BEFORE UNION MEN'S ASSAULT

Syracusans Meet Third Defeat in History of Court.

SCORE 21-16.

Union Plays Fast Game and Works Strategic Stall—Students Celebrate.

In the fastest game of the season Union recorded her first victory over Syracuse in basketball last Tuesday on the opponents' court, by a score of 21 to 16. Union's score was in the rear until well through the last half, when she shot three points in the lead and executed another strategic stall for the last five minutes. This is but the third defeat registered against the Orange team on its home court in the history of the gymnasium.

Bill Hardman's West Point combination was again a success. Beaver jumping center, played a whale of a game and chalked up three field baskets. Rinaldi played his man off the floor and didn't allow him a single point. Yavits enacted his usual dependable game. His foul shooting augured ill at the start but he soon felt the floor under his feet and showed the commendable result of seven points out of eleven attempts. George Brucker has the distinction of being the first man who ever outplayed Barsha on his home court, according to Syracuse authority. Wilber proved a great asset in speeding up the teamwork.

Both teams got some rough treatment in making those last baskets. Barsha was put out on personals but not until he had got in some rough work. He shot eight of ten possible foul points. Union's players were pretty much battle-scarred when they regarded their manly forms in the sanctity of the shower room but justly happy.

When the news of the victory reached Schenectady a "Papama Pee-rade" was the only means of expressing the elation of the students. Several bales of waste paper and a gate, unceremoniously ripped from its antique moorings, furnished the fuel for a "pyre" erected in front of the library. Damage $50.

HARD WORK TELLS.

Garnet Men Show Effects of the Strenuous Efforts on Previous Night.

But partially recovered from the strenuous mauling of the previous night, and under the adversities of a small court, the Garnet quintet accepted the third defeat of the season, this time at the hands of Colgate. The final score was 32 to 19. The Maroon players showed snappy passwork and a clean pair of heels throughout the game.

The half-time results showed 23 points to the credit of Colgate, with Union bringing up 13 to the rear. Union played good basketball in the second half, but the hard schedule began to tell on her. Hanley supplanted Beaver at Center in the latter period and the old forward took Wilber's place. Union gained a few points but the opponents still maintained their safe lead.

Union, it was evident, was greatly handicapped by the small court, where the Colgate men were in their glory. They made baskets from all angles as well as displaying some very clever passwork. Dwyer and Cottrell starred for the Orange. Yavits received a mean cut above the eye but managed to stick the game out.

Colgate has defeated some good teams on her own court this season, including Syracuse. She gave Union a close rub in Schenectady when the Garnet came through with a 19-18 victory in her first home game.

"BILL" NORTHROP, '18 NEW TRACK COACH

William P. Northrop, '18, was appointed by the Faculty Thursday afternoon to coach the track team. In addition Northrop will also have charge of all gymnasium work, including the direction of interclass athletics and, in a general way, will fulfill the duties previously done by Dr. S. A. McComber.

Northrop was for three years a member of the 'varsity track team and was elected captain in his Senior year. He was active in debating and a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Prof. Stoller Lectures On Local Geology

Professor James H. Stoller delivered a lecture in the Chemistry building Wednesday night on "The Geology of Schenectady and vicinity." The talk was illustrated by stereopticon slides made from pictures taken in local regions.

The speaker introduced his lecture by giving a general survey of the various rock formations in the state, identifying each with its period in geologic history. He then showed pictures of the various outcrops of these rocks as they occur in the vicinity of Schenectady. In mentioning the glacial period, he first outlined the general character of the great glacier which at one time covered this region, later pointing to present evidences of its previous existence.

Professor Stoller has made an exhaustive study of the geology of this vicinity and his booklet, "The Glacial Geology of the Cohoes Quadrangle," is soon to be published.

NO SUBJECT YET FOR ALLISON-FOOTE DEBATE.

No subject for the Allison-Foote debate has yet been selected by the Philomathean Society. At the Tuesday night meeting of the society it was decided to put the matter over until the next meeting because of the fact that members wished more mature consideration before making a choice. Inasmuch as the Adelpic Society has the choice of sides in the debate, the Philomathean will endeavor to pick a subject on which there are two defensible sides. Three new members were elected at the last meeting of the society. They were Karl H. Gorham, '19; James M. Cline, '20, and Gabriel Kirzenbaum, '22.

FROSH ELIMINATED.

Three Teams Have Average of Three Games Won and Two Lost.

The resumption of the interclass basketball games this week resulted in leaving the three upperclasses tied with three games won and one lost. The Freshmen are eliminated.

On Wednesday evening the Seniors and Sophomores came off victors. In the first half of the initial contest the passwork was slow, but that of the Seniors speeded up considerably before the whistle and as a result they managed to finish the half with a good lead.

Lefkowitz played winning ball for the class of '19. His most spectacular shot was a clean score from the middle of the court. The half ended 12-2 in favor of the Seniors.

The second half opened with the Juniors in better condition, but although the passwork was improved they did not succeed in overcoming the Seniors' lead. Comstock scored from well out on the floor and Wittner played an exceedingly fast game throughout. Weinhold starred for 1920 by keeping his eye for the basket sharp. He scored four clever shots from the field, and played an excellent game throughout.

SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1919

ENTHUSIASM.

Syracuse was defeated! The students on the hill went wild. A "Pajama Pee-rade" was started; college spirit ran high; the throttle of enthusiasm was wide open. This is all as it should be. A victory over Syracuse is deserving of some observance, but—the spirit became destructive. Buildings were entered and property was destroyed. This is not as it should be. This is not true Union spirit. Real Union men, remember this.

BASKETBALL

Congratulations are in order for Captain Yavits and his team. The basketball season has surely been a successful one and, in view of the amount of work accomplished a phenomenal one. Union opened the basketball season with but two veteran players on the squad. The few short weeks of practice preceding the opening game were utilized to the utmost. They were full of disappointment. Several likely men and Captain Jones were barred by the eligibility rule. But this has been an unusual year and it has required unusual courage to see it through. The basketball team has seen it through and has done so successfully.

While in point of games won not so flattering as last year, Union has yet completed a very commendable season in many respects. Granting that all other colleges have had equally difficult problems to solve, Union has met, on the average, a better class of teams than she has played in some years.

The successful outcome of the Syracuse game, coming as the solace for a previous defeat, was very gratifying. Colgate seems to have been an impossibility to take in her own citadel, but that can be passed over in the light of the beating she received on a regular court. West Point, Williams, Amherst, R. P. I., and the rest, all knew a similar fate.

Of the games played so far, Union has lost but three. Two of these defeats are offset by victories. It would seem by their demonstrations that the students are justly proud of the record the basketball team has made. In the uncivilized way they have tried to show their appreciation by actually starting a bonfire, an act unprecedented in the history of Union College since Dean Ripton so conclusively proved that South College will not burn.

The Bottom of the Keg

True to ancient custom, Union peered when we won the Syracuse game, but, in keeping with the more sedate and sober days now at hand, the party broke up before a new day had come into existence. Escaping from restraining bonds, however, some frolicsome sprites raided the old paper cache of the Chancellor of the Exchequer and removed other college antiquities to an old time barbecue, or as the Greek might have put it, "Holocaust." Ah, those next year's incidentals.

* * *

The Cynic departed for parts unknown without leaving with us the golden text for this issue. Fortunately we recall one of his little sayings which seems rather appropriate now that spring has arrived. "Love is a smoke made of the fumes of idle sighs."

"The team started minus three men, but Lyman who was accompanying it as a spectator was dressed up in a suit for looks."—Concordy item. A great man or was it a great clothing concern said "Clothes may not make the man but they go a long ways towards it." We are inclined to question this philosophy a little, but some of our stude army brothers seem to agree heartily with it.

* * *

"Have you a little fairy in your home?" must have become the slogan of the Albanians last week, when our Godly Argonauts set forth on their inspection tour of Albany homes. We understand that though they did not procure the Golden Fleece, they had a real old humdinger of a time.

Our right hand man whom we will term "Inspiration" for want of a better cognomen, applauded this last. We presume that he does reach the limit of human endurance at times, but then, so do we.

* * *

One of Union's prominent beauty spots, and one commonly shown to visitors, is Our Mess Hall, with its artistic surroundings of dirt and lumber piles. We suppose that in the Ultimate Plan, some use can be found for it ere it collapses. We might suggest several, for instance: In the long cold days that are to follow July first, tables might be installed, and those untamed souls who persist in frequenting our campus may pour out their grievances over their "cubeb-and-vichy." Again, the Collegetiddely-wink team could practice there.

One more before the gentle muse departs. The vandal hands that looted Spike's ancestral gate also took down the notice of "Make-up drill," posted by "Colonel H. J. Goldman, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, Union College, Schenectady, N. Y." With it, however, went those decorative and useful glass bulletin boards we have Parsha on his home court, according to so long cherished in our midst.

WHO WILL GET THE WATCH AND CHAIN?

The will of the Rev. John C. Knox of Rotterdam, filed Wednesday in the county clerk's office contains the bequest of a watch and chain to President Charles Alexander Richmond, with the request that it be given to some worthy student of the college.

The interest on $4,000 which is to go first to Mrs. Knox, will at her death, revert to Union College.

ATHLETIC RULINGS TABLED PENDING STUDENT OPINION.

Although student opinion will not by any means control the action of the Athletic Board in the matter of the proposed one-semester Freshman ruling and prohibition of summer baseball, the Board intends to sound out the students in the matter. This became known at the Tuesday night meeting of the Board, when the rulings were tabled to be taken up at the next meeting, in order that the opinion of the students might be obtained.

The matter of the selection of baseball and track coaches was taken up and discussed but no definite choice was made.

The Board is in favor of allowing a man to wear some form of a stripe on his sweater indicating how many times he has won his "U" in that sport. This matter is to be looked into and action will be taken in the near future.

Lewis and Locke played exceedingly fast games for 1922, the latter caging five times. The Frosh, however, displayed poor teamwork and went down to defeat by a score of 32-17.

Scorer, Carvey '21. Referee, Hanley, '20. Time of halves, 20 minutes. Freshman-Senior.

On Thursday afternoon the Frosh again went down to defeat at the hands of the Seniors. The Frosh, as usual, showed their gameness and managed to keep the score fairly even. The first half was played for the most part about the Senior's basket but Lewis, by his fast and clever playing, managed to cage three balls for the Frosh, representing their only score in the initial half. Parker starred for the Seniors, who succeeded in ending the first half with a score of 11-6.

The second half opened with much better team work for both sides. Parker, of the upperclassmen, collided with Murray and Carr and was knocked out both times, but he managed to come around before the whistle and finished the game. The Frosh displayed clever playing toward the end but were unable to tie the score, which was 16-14 when the whistle blew.
